

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE BY JAPS IN AIR RAID ON ALASKA

WASHINGTON, June 4—(P)—The Navy, describing the situation at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, as quiet at present, reported today that the second wave of enemy planes which flew over the base yesterday failed to drop bombs and probably was engaged only in reconnaissance.

A communique declared total damage at the base was not extensive and fires were quickly extinguished after the initial raid yesterday morning.

While the source of the attacking aircraft has not been definitely determined, the communique said, they are believed to have been carrier-based.

The communique also announced the loss of the USS Cythera, a small naval patrol vessel, in the Atlanta area and said that next of kin of personnel aboard the converted yacht had been notified.

The two Japanese air raids on the United States naval base in Alaska, shifted the focus of Pacific war to North America itself today and put defenses from the Aleutian inland to Panama on the alert against further thrusts.

Brief official reports of these first air attacks on North America soil failed to indicate immediately whether they were mere hit-and-run blows or the opening phase of an organized grand assault on the northwestern stepping stone to Canada and the United States.

But Anthony J. Dimond, Alaskan delegate to Congress, gave this warning: "I am afraid we may have a struggle on our hands to keep that area."

The first attack was by four Japanese bombers and about 15 fighters at 6 A. M., Alaska time (noon Eastern War Time) yesterday, and lasted about 15 minutes.

"A few warehouses were set on fire but no serious damage was suffered," the Navy announced. "There were but few casualties."

The second raid was made at about noon, Alaskan Time (6 P. M. Eastern War Time), six hours after the initial attack, the Navy said.

Dimond said he had heard nothing direct from Alaska on the raids, but expressed fear that there were too few defending planes to beat back a sustained series of attacks in case the Japanese opened a big-scale offensive such as the Philippines invasion.

Civilian defense leaders at Seattle warned the public to check air raid instructions and prepare for a possible blackout. In California the Los Angeles County Defense Council issued an emergency alert, calling for sharp vigilance and readiness for instant action.

Military authorities at Balboa cancelled all leaves and passes of soldiers and sailors in the Panama Canal Zone. The alert status there was intensified.

Experts said the Japanese fighters in the first raid must have come from a cruiser, but there was possibility that the bombers came from a land base. Dutch Harbor is about 1,800 miles from the northernmost of the Kurile Islands which stretch northward from Japan proper.

Unalaska Island, on which Dutch Harbor is situated, is nearly 1,000 miles from the westernmost of the Aleutians, which in turn is some 700 miles from

Many years ago D. V. Smith owned and lived on the present site of the Record-Herald building on South Fayette Street.

Back of the old frame house which formerly stood on the site was a small Buckeye tree.

The owner made a request that the Buckeye tree be planted up on his grave in the Washington Cemetery, and at his death this was carried out.

That was many years ago, and the Buckeye tree, now some 40 feet or more in height and beautifully shaped, stands on the D. V. Smith lot near the earth-covered mausoleum in the heart of the cemetery.

His only surviving son, Fred Smith, who resides in this city, gave me the above information during a brief chat on the Main Stem. He calls the Buckeye tree the "Herald tree" by reason of the fact that it formerly stood on the site of the Record-Herald block.

U. S. STILL SHIPPING OIL TO SPAIN FOR MINERALS
WASHINGTON, June 4—(P)—Government officials said today that the United States was still permitting periodic shipments of oil and gasoline to Spain.

But they declared that both oil and gasoline were low grade, that only enough to meet essential domestic requirements in Spain was granted export licenses, and that the United States receives much-needed strategic materials in return.

6 Powder Manufacturers Indicted for Conspiracy

PHILADELPHIA, June 4—(P)—E. I. Du Pont de Nemours and Company, five other explosive manufacturers and 10 of their officials were indicted by a Federal grand jury today on charges of conspiring to fix prices in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Also named were the Hercules Powder Company and the Atlas Powder Company, both of Wilmington, Del.; the Austin Powder Company of Cleveland; Illinois Powder Manufacturing Co., St. Louis, and the King Powder Co., Cincinnati.

The 10-page indictment contended that the effect of the alleged conspiracy was to "maintain the prices of commercial explosives and blasting supplies to all classes of consumers at high, inflated prices."

The grand jury also charged that the conspirators had agreed to "fix the prices of commercial explosives and blasting supplies to all classes of consumers at high, inflated prices."

GOV. BRICKER FILES FOR ANOTHER TERM

COLUMBUS, June 4—(P)—Republican Governor John W. Bricker formally launched his third term candidacy today by filing his declaration of candidacy petitions with the secretary of state.

"I believe I can do more, both toward the winning of the war and the preservation of our system of self-government, in the office which I now occupy than any other place. I am, therefore, declaring my candidacy for reelection as governor of Ohio," the executive said in a formal statement accompanying the filing of his petitions.

Men Trained Here for War Work

Classes Are Held At Night

Aviation Mechanics Course At High School Equipped With Planes by Army

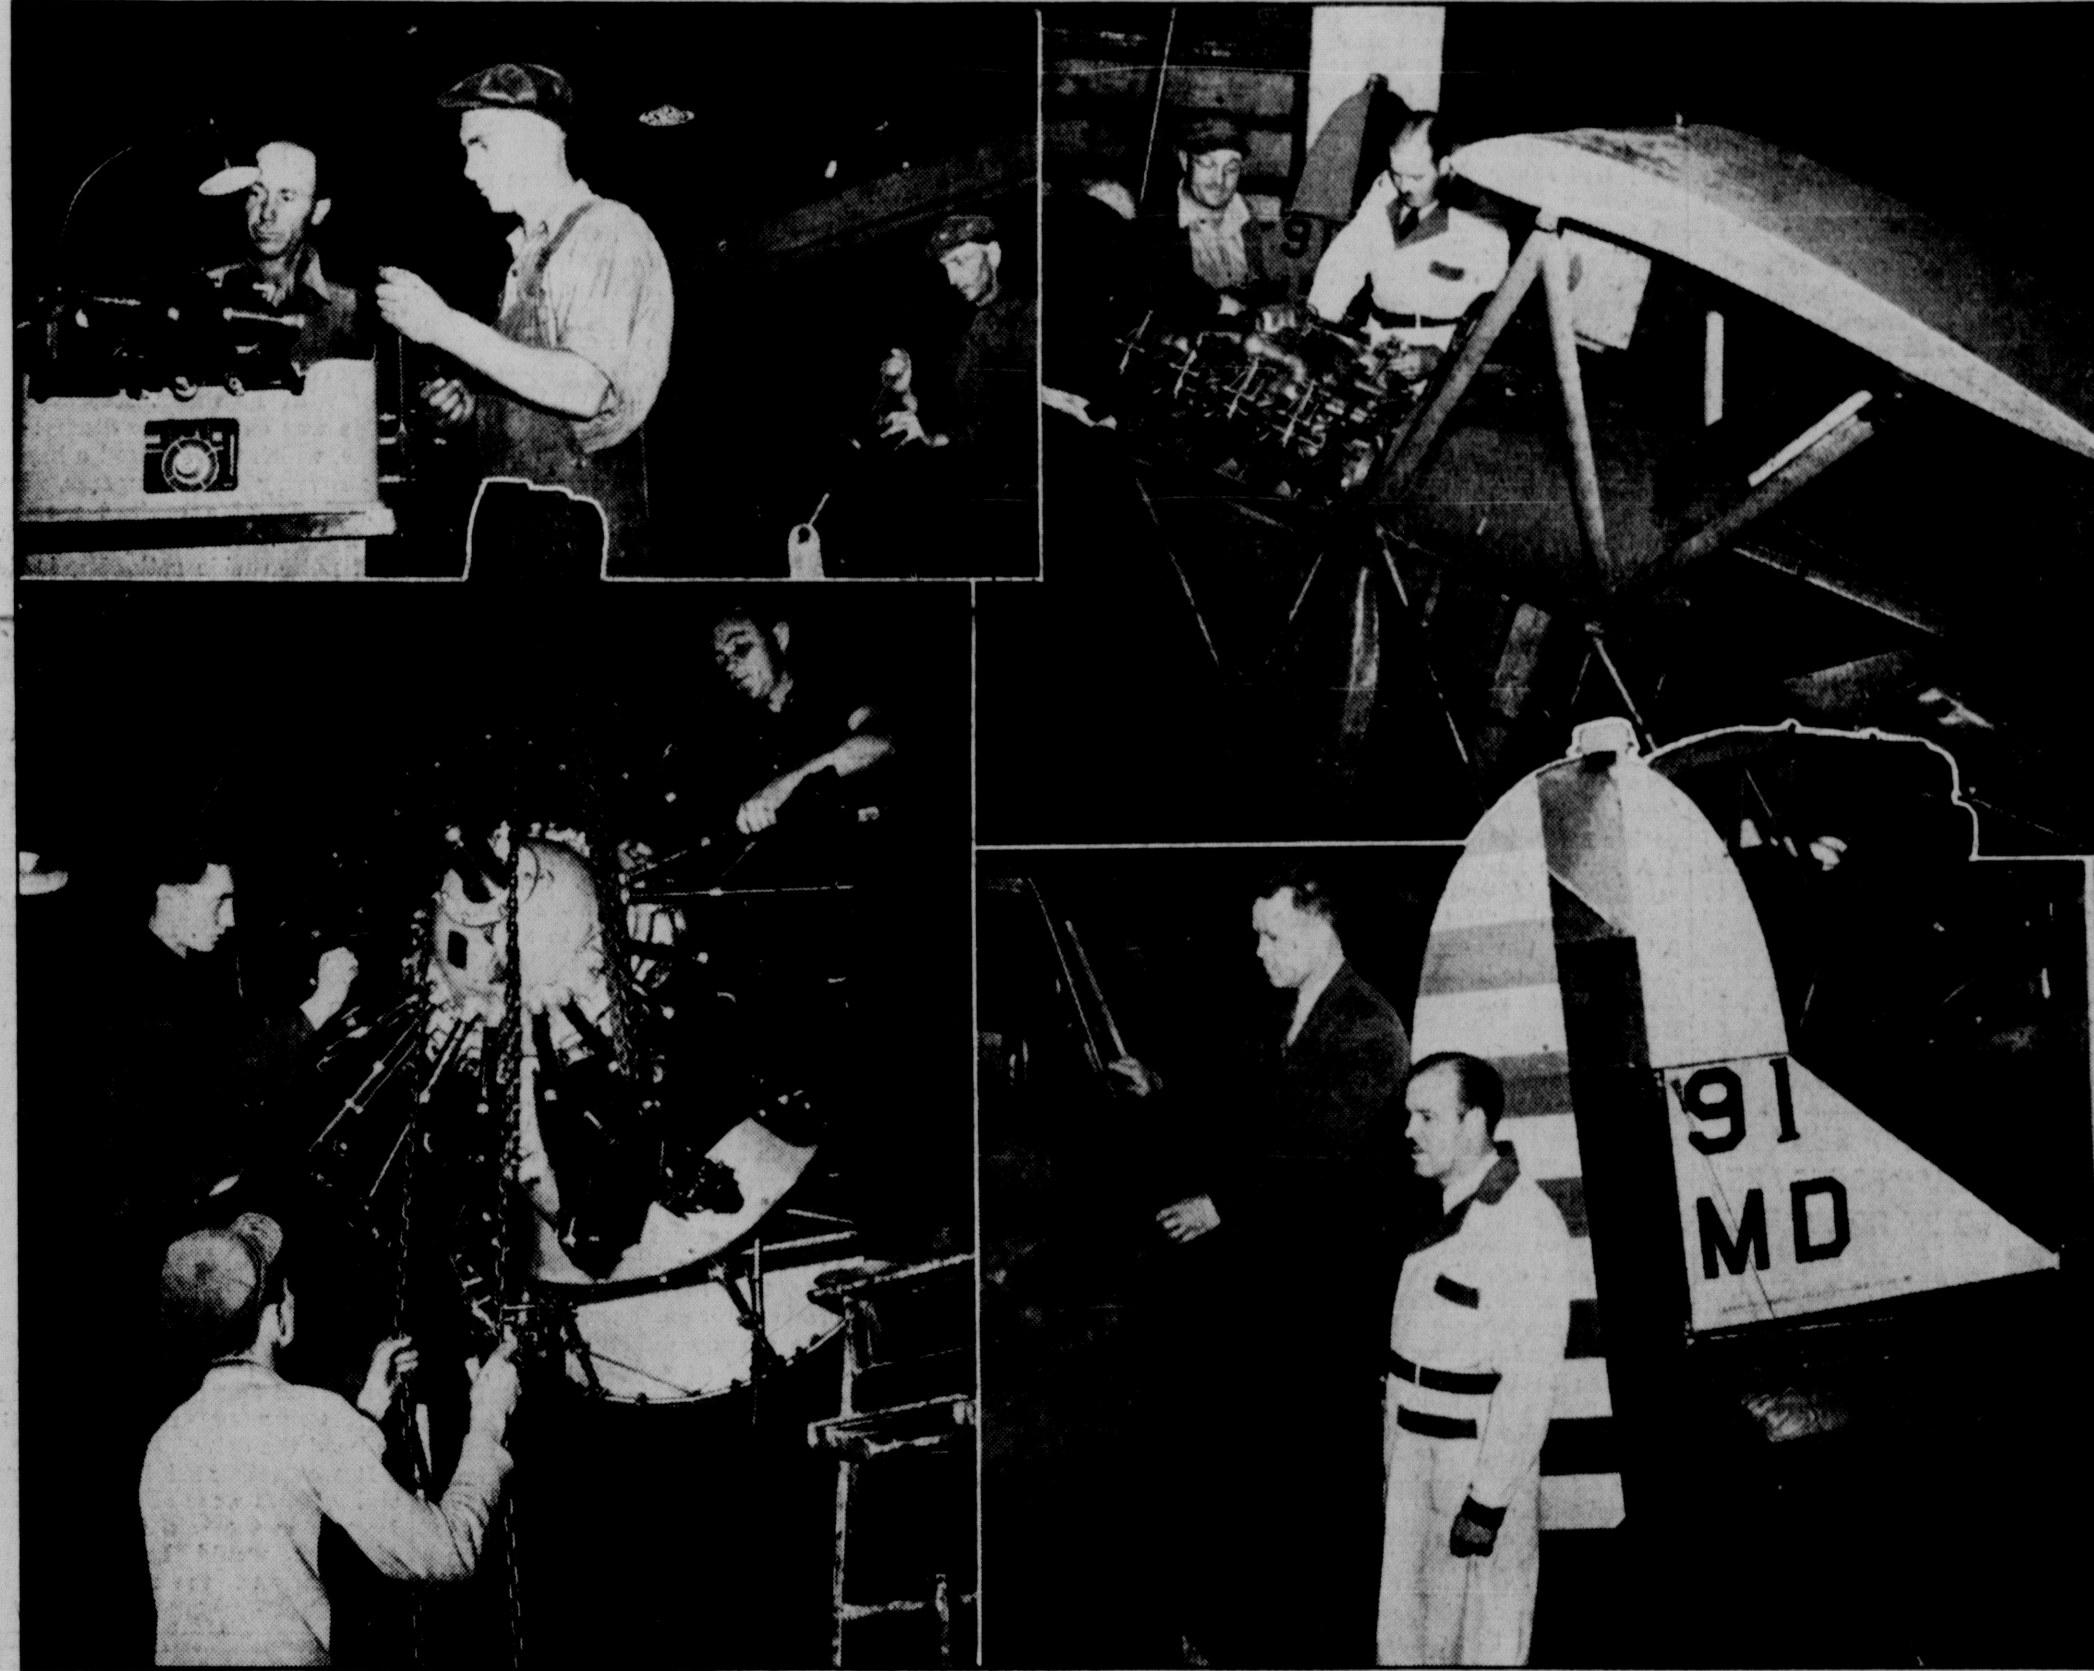

With Uncle Sam putting literally thousands of airplanes into the air to carry the war to the Axis aggressors, an opportunity is offered to every man in Washington C. H. and Fayette County with a mechanical aptitude not only to help in his country's war effort but also to learn a trade for making a better living when victory is won and normal life is resumed.

All that is necessary is a little ability and ambition; the training is offered without cost at the high school building where classes in a course in aviation mechanics are held five nights a week, six hours a night for a three-month period. The instructors are O. M. Reigel and Warren B. Root, both members of the high school faculty.

The course in aviation mechanics was the outgrowth of the program of vocational training inaugurated in the high school here two years ago with classes in welding, electrical work and allied crafts.

When the country's warplane production got into high gear and the demands for skilled airplane workers exceeded the supply, the shop here was turned over to the training of airplane mechanics exclusively.

The first class in aviation mechanics was started last January. The records show that virtually

Here are a few of the men getting actual experience in aviation mechanics in the night school at the Washington C. H. High School. They soon will be helping build Uncle Sam's air armada to carry the war to the Axis countries and at the same time improve their own positions in life by learning a trade.

The two instructors of the Washington C. H. aviation mechanics class, O. M. Reigel (standing on the wing) and Warren B. Root (in the white coveralls) are inspecting an Army Pursuit plane. The tail of the giant Fokker with the 91 MD is also shown in the picture at the bottom-right.

Assassin's Bullet Is Fatal to Gestapo's Killer

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), June 4—(P)—Reinhard Heydrich, 38, Reichs protector for Bohemia and Moravia, died in Prague this morning of wounds suffered in an attempt on his life May 27, it was announced officially today.

(The assassination is expected to bring about the shooting of hundreds of hostages in addition to the 163 already slain in swift reprisals, Czech circles in London asserted.)

(London sources declared Heydrich recently was appointed Gestapo chief for occupied Europe and it was pointed out ironically that the "butcher of Moravia" died in virtually the same manner as hundreds of hostages he had ordered shot in France, Holland, Belgium, Norway, Poland and other countries during his hated career.)

(A Czech source in London said automatic rifles used by two men to shoot Heydrich were from the ordnance of the disbanded Czech army. The Czech government appealed by radio to the Czechs to stand firm against the Gestapo bloodshed and not disclose those connected with the shooting.)

(Forty-six more Czechs were reported executed by the Germans yesterday in bloody reprisals for the attack on Heydrich, bringing to 163 the total number who have died before Nazi firing squads in the protectorate. Twenty-two more were reported shot yesterday.)

Hitler Strengthens Nazi Gang

It Will Be All Gravy for His Pot-bellied 'Party' Members if Army Wins War and They'll Loot the World—Soldiers and Non-members Getting Suspicious, Too

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's another important story by the famous Wide World News Service foreign correspondent, Louis P. Lochner, giving "inside" information on Germany, which has been cloaked under a heavy censorship since Hitler started the World War. He has just returned to this country.)

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER (Wide World News Service)
NEW YORK, June 4.—It's all gravy for the Hitler boys—if Der Fuehrer should win the war. The Nazi party will be in more complete control of the country than ever, and the party button will open the doors to all positions, all graft, all swag.

There probably would be one grand purge first, during which all those members who have rendered mere lip service to the regime would be ousted as dramatically as were Ernst Roehm and other Nazi leaders during the famed purge of 1934. But who would survive such a purge and remained a party member in good standing might look forward to a life of power, plenty and possession.

During the first two years of the war the army seemed temporarily to eclipse the party and its formations. But Hitler was quick to see this. His top men like Goebbels and Himmler, jealous of the party's power, were

AIRGRAPH LETTERS AVAILABLE TO YANKS

System Cuts Down Weight of Mail from England

LONDON, June 4—(P)—United States Army headquarters announced today that American troops in the British Isles now will be able to send airgraph letters to relatives and friends at home.

The system is similar to that used by British troops in India and the Middle East. The letters are written on specially prepared blanks and photographed by a micro-filming process. The films are taken by bomber to Washington, enlarged by the War Department and forwarded to the addressees.

The use of such letter is not mandatory, but it would save hundreds of tons of air mail.

JAP NAVY OFFICERS SHOT BY BRITISH

Presence Taken as Indication Seizure Contemplated

LONDON, June 4—(P)—A British War Office announcement today that two Japanese naval officers had been shot by a British patrol in Madagascar was regarded here as further proof that the Japanese were planning to take over that large French island when the British themselves moved in.

The officers, one source said, apparently were assigned to make plans of the naval base at Diego Suarez to prepare the way for a Japanese landing.

USO CAMPAIGN PLANS LAID FOR FAYETTE COUNTY

Committees To Seek To Raise $3,800 for Recreation Of Men in Service

A campaign to raise $3,800 in Fayette County to be added to the thousands of dollars being raised throughout the county for the United Service Organizations to provide what has been broadly termed out-of-camp recreation for the men in the country's armed forces will be started within the next few days, it was disclosed Thursday after the first steps toward forming a campaign organization had been taken.

In general, this campaign is to follow the same lines as that held here several months ago, it was said by Walter Patton, the publicity man.

Carroll Halliday has been named the chairman of the main organization and Glen Woodmansee, the finance or campaign chairman, J. Roush Burton is to be the treasurer.

These appointments were made by the volunteer groups at a meeting held Wednesday night in the City Hall following several weeks of preliminary work.

The skeleton organization for conducting the campaign in the rural sections of the county and the county's villages was set up at that meeting. Township chairmen were appointed and they in turn, will select workers. The township chairmen are: Raymond Scott, Paint; Harry West, Marion; Beryl Canine, Union; Harry Hiser and Grant Morgan, Jasper; Walter Sollars, Concord; Wash Lough, W. N. Free and Elmer Hutchinson, Wayne; Chester Zimmerman, Green; Robert Cockerill, Perry; Rev. E. R. Rector, Jefferson and Kenneth Craig, Madison.

The organization for the campaign in the city probably will be set up by wards, it was said, at a meeting scheduled for Thursday night.

Of the $3,800 sought, $2,000 is to be held here for possible needs such as the movement of troops. At that time volunteers provided some entertainment and a welcome for the thousands of soldiers when they camped on the County Home farm over night with a little money and cookies given by patriotic individuals on short notice. Another $1,000 would be set aside for future individual expenses and the remaining $3,500 would be sent to the USO headquarters, it was said.

Patton said the committee wanted it distinctly understood that "we are not just passing the hat for small change," and added that the committee feels the "biggest thing we can do will be small by comparison with what the boys in the service are doing." With this in mind, he said, the committee would ask for substantial contributions. It was emphasized, however, that small contributions would not be turned down because to many a small amount is in reality big because of the sacrifices it necessitates.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. LOLA BROWN

Funeral services were held at the Klever Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Lola Brown, conducted by Rev. John M. Barnes, pastor of the Alburn Lutheran Church in Springfield. He was a former pastor of Mrs. Brown. The minister read a personal memorial tribute to Mrs. Brown and recited passages from the Bible and offered prayer.

Miss Daisy Cockerill sang the two hymns, "Going Down the Valley" and "Good Night Here, Good Morning Up There." She was accompanied by Mrs. Marian Gage.

The flowers which banked the casket were arranged by Mrs. Ralph Lipps, Mrs. Owen Lipps, Mrs. Al Stroepe, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. A. V. Smith and Miss Juanita Brown.

COMMITTAL SERVICES ARE HELD FOR INFANT

Simple committal services were held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Sugar Creek Baptist Church Cemetery for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Schlichter.

The baby died at the home of his parents on the Hyde Road in Paint Township Wednesday. He is survived by a sister, Lucinda Sue, and two grandmothers and one grandfather, Mrs. Hazel Schlichter and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schilling of Zanesville.

The interment was in charge of the Klever Funeral Home.

Mr. William Burnett is critically ill at his home at 1114 South Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Litz moved from 1018 Lakeview Avenue to 419 Broadway, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Willis moved Thursday from the Lewis Road to 707 North North Street.

Frank Weade, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Weade, entered the U. S. Coast Guard Thursday, in Columbus.

Mrs. W. A. Grim was brought from White Cross Hospital, Thursday morning to her home in the Klever ambulance.

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Michael Helfrich have moved from Phoenix, Ariz., to 303 North Missouri Ave., Roswell, N. M.

Mrs. Ormond Dewey underwent a minor operation at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, on Wednesday. Her condition is reported as very satisfactory.

Mrs. Emery Lucas (Hazel Speakman) who underwent a major operation on Wednesday, May 27, is now at the home of her sister, Mrs. Vernon Wingard, Garden Acres, Springfield, where she is improving rapidly.

William Murdock was removed from his home on Lakeview Avenue Wednesday afternoon to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, in the Klever ambulance for observation and treatment. Mrs. Murdock accompanied him.

P. A. Myers, assistant manager of Montgomery Ward and Co. store here the past three years, has been promoted to the post of assistant manager of the company's Portsmouth store, and he and Mrs. Myers leave for Portsmouth Friday.

JAP TROOP SHIP SUNK AND GERMAN PORTS ARE RAIDED BY COMMANDOS

Japan's two face-saving assaults yesterday on the U. S. naval base at Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands.

Terse official reports indicated that the double-barreled attack, the first air raids ever to strike at North America, inflicted few casualties and little serious damage.

A hint that the raiders apparently met a fiery reception came from Rear Admiral C. S. Freeman, commander of the 13th Naval District, who declared after the initial dawn assault on the Alaskan outpost:

"This attack was not a surprise and the station was prepared to meet it."

RAF Bombs Bremen

Other major developments crowded the international picture:

1. The British announced that RAF bombers heavily pounded Germany's big northern seaport of Bremen (pop. 325,000) in a follow-up to mass attacks on Cologne and Essen, while British Commandos boldly scouted the Gologne-Le Touquet region of the German-occupied French "invasion" coast overnight.

2. Adolf Hitler's No. 2 Gestapo chief, Reinhard Heydrich, known to Europe's oppressed millions as "the bloodiest of all the bloody

CANNING SUGAR BOARD SET UP AT MARTINSBURG

Four Deputy Boards Now Located at 4 Strategic Points in County

In order to help the people of Fayette County conserve their tires, the Rationing Board has set up a fourth deputy board for the rationing of sugar for canning at New Martinsburg, it was announced Thursday by Ralph R. Penn, the county's rationing coordinator.

The other deputy boards are at Good Hope, Jeffersonville and Bloomingburg. It was not said whether any additional deputy boards would be set up but it was intimated that the board felt these four boards are in strategic locations and will serve the county. It was indicated, however, that others could be set up if there is a real need for them.

It was made plain that these deputy boards handle only sugar for canning and have nothing to do with sugar for home consumption, tires, automobiles or any of the other rationed commodities.

The New Martinsburg board has been placed in charge of Lester T. Ellis, the chairman, with Miss Louise Ritter and Mrs. Cora Grice as the other deputies. It is to be open from 9 A. M. until 9 P. M. on Friday and the chairman will announce the schedule for the rest of the rationing period, which ends June 21, later.

The schedule of the Good Hope deputy board has been changed, Penn said Thursday. It is to be open only on Monday from 1 P. M. until 8:30 P. M.

The coordinator explained that it is "absolutely necessary" for applicants for canning sugar to take all of the War Ration Books held by the family with them.

Within reason, it was said, a pound of sugar will be allowed for every four quarts of finished canned fruit. For preserves, butters, and jellies only one pound per person will be allowed because it was explained, these are considered luxuries and not as essential as the canned fruit.

Nazis and as "Der Henker" (the hangman), died from bullet wounds in his spine inflicted in an assassination attempt in old Czechoslovakia, May 27.

3. On the North African front, British Imperial armored forces were reported today to have routed Axis soldiers from a desert stronghold in a fierce engagement while their Free French Allies held fast against efforts by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel to seize the key position of Bir Hacheim.

A Middle East Command communiqué said British forces, attacking at the "last light of June 2," drove the enemy out of Tamar, 21 miles southwest of Tobruk and six miles west of Knightsbridge.

"The enemy is known to have lost at least 14 tanks in this engagement," the communiqué declared.

There are British Indian troops at Bir Hacheim, but British sources said the main force consists of Free French Metropolitan troops plus a battalion of the French Foreign Legion which now is about 85 percent French.

British headquarters made no reference to the developing situation north of Bir El Hacheim, the "well of wisdom" oasis 30 miles southwest of Tobruk, where Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops were attempting to widen a nine-mile breach in the British line.

The Germans were reported making furious tank assaults on both walls of the narrow corridor, through which Rommel was feeding supplies to his hard-pressed forces farther east.

Canal Zone Alert

In Balboa, military authorities swiftly cancelled all leaves and passes of soldiers and sailors in the Panama Canal Zone.

While the Pacific coast remained calm, without a single suggestion of hysteria, the Berlin radio asserted that "unimaginable panic" gripped Alaska as a result of the raids.

Commenting on the new British commando thrust into Adolf Hitler's French coastal defenses, London announced that the black-faced raiders, escorted by warships and covered by RAF fighter planes, "engaged the enemy and obtained valuable information" in a pre-dawn attack.

"Our troops suffered only slight casualties," a British communiqué said. Berlin said German troops repulsed "an attempted British landing" and captured prisoners.

Meanwhile, powerful squadrons of RAF bombers flew through moonlit skies to blast at the German maritime center of Bremen, site of important shipbuilding and submarine yards, railways, steel works and other vital targets.

Ten RAF bombers and two fighters were listed as missing from the night operations.

On the Russian front, both sides were apparently resting before attempting another such major clash as the bloody 18-day battle of Kharkov.

War Simmers in Russia

Red army headquarters reported "battles of local importance" in several unidentified sectors, while Hitler's high command declared "there was no important fighting."

In addition to the Japanese troops, United Nations headquarters said an Allied submarine sank two heavily-laden Japanese supply ships and damaged a third.

A communiqué also reported that Japanese submarines operating close off the east coast of Australia attacked three Allied cargo ships and sank one of them, but indicated that the other two escaped undamaged.

Amid these thrusts at Australia's shipping, suggesting an attempted blockade of the down-under continent, the war on China's east coast raged on with mounting fury.

China Hard Pressed

A Tokyo broadcast asserted that Japanese offensives were forging ahead in three Chinese provinces—Chekiang, Kwangtung and Kiangsi—and that Japanese troops had broken through the outer defenses of Chusien, key rail city in western Chekiang Province.

A Japanese army spokesman said Japan's opening of a new front in Kiangsi Province "serves as a final warning" to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese armies to give up their "meaningless resistance or accept the alternative of annihilation."

The Chinese who have repeatedly scoffed at such overtures through five bloody years of war with Japan, said 50,000 Japanese troops were being thrown into the Kiangsi offensive in a drive to seize the Kiangsi-Chekiang railway which leads into the heart of China.

High-lighting the gravity of China's peril, two top-ranking American officers in the far Pacific arrived in Chongking by plane for conferences with Generalissimo Chiang. They are Lieut.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of Chinese forces in the lost battle of Burma, and Maj.-Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of U. S. army air forces in India.

Chinese Fighting

Chinese military dispatches reported that the Chinese armies, harassed on a dozen fronts, were putting up a terrific fight and inflicting heavy casualties on the invaders.

On the Burma-China front in the far southwest, the Chinese said 2,000 Japanese had been killed and wounded in two weeks of fighting on the outskirts of Lungling and Tengyueh, Japanese-occupied towns just west of the upper Salween River.

On the China east coast, dispatches said the Chinese were beating back Japanese spearheads attempting to drive north along the Canton-Hankow railway in Kwangtung Province.

Siberia May Be Next

Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, commander of the American volunteer group (the Flying Tigers) came to Chungking with Stilwell.

Meanwhile, a Chinese spokesman said he had heard new reports of Japanese concentrations in Manchukuo. The reports increased speculation in Chinese circles over Japanese failure thus far to attempt invasion of Australia or India.

There was an increasing belief among the Chinese that Soviet Siberia might be the next big Japanese target.

Meanwhile, the British war office disclosed new evidence that Japan may have been planning to seize the strategic French island of Madagascar, off the coast of southeast Africa, now

PEA PACKING BEGINS MONDAY AT LOCAL PLANT

Ladoga Company Will Open Factory for Pack of Large Crop

Pea packing will begin at the Ladoga Canning Company's plant here Monday morning, and for the next three or four weeks the plant will be a busy place as the work of canning the big crop is carried forward.

The company has over 600 acres of peas to pack, and Manager Harry Hyer said Thursday that the crop is a good one this year, with exception of a few fields in which the aphids caused some damage prior to the first heavy rains in May.

It was also indicated that additional help will be needed at the plant throughout the pea packing season, as only part of the number necessary to man the equipment has been obtained up to the present time.

The pack here is expected to be one of the largest and best quality packed here in a number of years.

The war office said two Japanese naval officers had been shot by a British patrol Monday at a village north of the British-held Diego Suarez naval base.

ty-nine women were included in the total.

(London Czech sources predicted today that hundreds of an estimated 5,000 hostages rounded up would be executed by the Gestapo in addition to those already shot.)

The Berlin radio announced that Heydrich was wounded at 1 P. M., May 27, on the Berlin-Prague highway within the limits of greater Prague.

A reward of 10,000,000 crowns ($235,000 at the last quoted rate of exchange in May, 1941) was immediately offered for his assassins and martial law was proclaimed in Prague.

(Quoting dispatch from Stockholm, Tass, official Soviet news agency, said last Monday that the Heydrich case had come as a thunderbolt to Hitler's circle of leaders and had touched off arrests in the German capital itself.)

(So important was the case that Himmler was said in the Tass dispatch to have notified Hitler of the attack in an urgent telephone call.)

"The bloodiest of all the bloody Nazis."

That was the hated soubriquet applied to Reinhard Heydrich, the Gestapo's second in command by Europe's oppressed millions.

For his ruthless application of repressive measures—usually the firing squad or the hangman's noose—against those who dared to challenge their Nazi conquerors, the hard-bitten, 38-year-old Heydrich also became known by the equally dubious title of "der henker," or hangman.

An early convert to Nazism, Heydrich was little known to the world generally until the fall of 1941 when Hitler sent him to Prague to quell a rising tide of Czech unrest. There he succeeded the doddering Baron Konstantin Neurath as "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia.

arbitrary and artificial levels."

The indictment also charged that the defendants controlled 75 percent of the total volume of commercial explosives and blasting supplies produced in the nation.

Sales at collusive prices were made, the indictment said, "not only to consumers and jobbers generally throughout the country, but to state, county and municipal governments, to contractors for use in connection with construction of federal defense projects, and to agencies and departments of the federal government."

Individuals indicted were S. G. Baker, director of sales of the explosive division of Du Pont and his assistant, H. W. Hobson; C. C. Gerow, director of sales for Hercules and his assistant, H. M. Lynch; E. Frost, director of Atlas sales, and his assistant, W. E. Hazletine; Norman T. Alexander, vice president of Austin; M. J. Moses, sales director of Illinois Powder; Eugene King, president, and F. T. Morse, sales manager of the King Company.

The True Bill declared that the conspiracy dated back to 1938. Special Assistant U. S. Attorney General Allen A. Doherty said in a statement that Du Pont was dissolved in 1912 as a monopoly under the Sherman Act and that the Atlas and Hercules companies were created by court decree.

This decree, he added, transferred assets of the Du Pont Co. to Atlas and Hercules for the purpose of providing competition with Du Pont. All three were enjoined by the court then, Doherty said, from entering into any future price-fixing arrangement.

GASOLINE RATIONING IS UP TO PRESIDENT

Decision Expected Friday on 3-gallon-a-week Plan

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(P)—Decision as to whether gasoline rationing should be extended throughout the country as a tire conservation measure rested today with President Roosevelt.

He was expected to discuss the issue, which has aroused a heated controversy in Congress, and elsewhere, at a cabinet meeting on Friday.

If nation-wide rationing is decided upon, it probably would follow the pattern of the program laid down by the office of price administration for the Eastern Seaboard yesterday to replace the temporary system that expires on July 1.

Under this plan, all motorists who register on a date yet to be announced will receive a basic coupon ration equivalent to approximately three gallons a week, the present limit for "non-essential" driving.

OHIO METHODIST CHURCH PLANS PENSION FUND

SPRINGFIELD, June 4.—(P)—Ohio's Methodist churches plan to establish a $1,000,000 pension fund for retired ministers and their families.

The Ohio Methodist Conference approved plans yesterday for an immediate campaign to raise the money through contributions of pastors and congregations and appointed J. Boyd Davis, Columbus insurance man, to head the drive.

It was estimated 150 ministers and widows were eligible to participate in the aid fund, $7,000, of which would be allocated to persons and the rest placed in trust.

GRATEFUL FARMER ENLISTS IN NAVY

BARNSTEAD, N. H., June 4.—(P)—Farmer Floyd Corson has enlisted in the United States navy with a petty officer's rating because "next to my wife the United States government has been my best friend for a good many years."

Corson, father of five children, explained that when he was "down and out," the farm security administration helped him to get back on his feet by loaning him enough money to buy a team of horses, a few tools, some seed and fertilizer.

His two sons—William T., 15, and Floyd, Jr., 14—will operate the farm for the duration.

"I am anxious," Corson said, "to get in there and add my bit and I will consider it a privilege to go wherever I am sent."

DIVORCE AND 2 TIRES IS ASKED BY HUSBAND

FREMONT, June 4.—(P)—Along with his petition for divorce, Richard Albert of Fremont today sought a mandatory injunction to compel his wife, Lois, to replace two tires.

Albert charged his wife removed the tires and he cannot drive to work. He also asked a restraining order to prevent his wife from molesting his car in the future.

LOGAN PACKING HOUSE TO SUSPEND OPERATIONS

LOGAN, June 4.—(P)—The Heine Packing Co., meat wholesalers, announced today it would suspend operations indefinitely because of inability to operate profitably under price ceilings imposed upon pork and beef products by the office of price administration. The concern, established in 1920, employs 25 men.

UNION VOLUNTEERS CUT

CLEVELAND, June 4.—(P)—The AFL brotherhood of Electric Workers has decided to reduce overtime premium pay from double rates of $3.50 an hour to time and one-half rates of $2.62 1-2 hourly. H. C. Mohr, union business manager, announced today.

EIGHTEEN FARM WOMEN FINISH FIRST AID WORK

Entire Class Is Awarded Certificates Showing Good Work Done

Eighteen farm women of Concord Township have just completed their Red Cross First Aid Course after having met once each week since March 17. All of them passed the tests given at the conclusion of the course and have been awarded certificates showing their accomplishment.

The grades averaged from 81 to 98 percent, a really remarkable accomplishment for so large a class, and one which sets a mark for other classes to attain.

Dr. Rose, of Sabina, instructed the first aid class, and each time the class met at a home of one of the members, so that a great deal of sociability was enjoyed while taking the course of study.

In order to conserve tires, groups of the women went in a single automobile and in this way transportation proved a tire saver and a pleasant diversion for all concerned.

Following is a list of the women who took the course and passed the final tests:

Mrs. Joe Palmer, Mrs. T. M. Lanum, Mrs. Lon Conner, Mrs. Morris Sollars, Mrs. Homer Morrow, Mrs. Harold Mark, Mrs. Robert Case, Mrs. Sam Marting, Mrs. Emerson Marting, Mrs. Jean Nisley, Mrs. Robert Coffman, Mrs. Ralph Nisley, Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Walter Sollars, Mrs. Glenn Davis, Mrs. W. N. Rose, Mrs. Clarence Rowe, and Mrs. Earl Adkins.

MEN ARE TRAINED HERE FOR WAR WORK IN NIGHT CLASS AT HIGH SCHOOL

every man who completed the course is now helping turn out warplanes. Most of them went to the factories in cities in central Ohio or to Patterson Field, the government wartime aviation center.

The present class will complete the course on July 1 and school officials, who have charge of the training, are anxious to have another ready to step right in when these men go out, A. B. Murray, the superintendent of the city schools said.

Men who show particular skill—and they are numerous—are being called constantly to jobs before they complete the course, the superintendent said, and made it plain that there was no objection to that. But, he continued, that leaves openings for replacements and, for this reason, he said, the course is "kept open," as he described it—that is, a man can start with the class any time there is a vacancy and not be "behind" in his work. There are two or three vacancies now, he said.

The course, Murray explained, is strictly for adults. They are enrolled through the United States Employment Service, for which Charles Dunton is the manager of the Washington C. H. office, and the WPA.

Approximately 50 men have taken the training in aviation mechanics since the course was inaugurated in January. About half of them enrolled through Dunton and the other half came off the WPA rolls.

Dunton explained that the course was set up primarily for men who want to better their position in life and are willing to take the time to study and work. Many of them enrolled through the USES, he said, are now working during the day and go to the aviation mechanics classes at night. The training is considered by Dunton as "a fine thing for men who have been living on a subsistence wage working on WPA," and the records show that many of these men are now equipped to take jobs at good wages in private industry. He added, most of them who have taken the course have shown they are capable and have ability enough but had lacked the training.

Supt. Murray and Dunton both said the course would continue through the summer school vacation at night. A daytime course will be added if the demand for aviation mechanics continues and the enrollment warrants. All applications for enrollment are made through Dunton at the USES office on Market Street.

WPA and school officials from all over the state consider the set-up in Washington C. H. a model. The training given here is coordinated with that given at Patterson Field. This is one of the reasons so many of those who complete the course are now employed there. Supt. Murray mentioned a few of them—Loren Wain, Lawrence Taylor, Harry Locke, Ray Massie, Glenn Pettit, Donald Donahue, James Ater and Raymond Roberts.

The training program is conducted in conjunction with the aviation mechanics department of the high school. The shop is completely equipped with new tools and sufficient machines. It is set up in what was the gymnasium of the high school before it was remodeled and enlarged.

The government has given substantial support to the course for developing aviation mechanics. Planes and parts have been sent to the shop from Patterson Field and it now resembles a busy hangar with the men working on an Army P-35 pursuit plane, the Waco training plane or the huge Fokker cabin plane. Parts of other planes, salvaged by the Army, are stored and ready to be repaired and reassembled.

Occupational classifiers, in their search for men to help with the country's warplane output, discovered a number of men on the WPA rolls possessed the necessary background to qualify them for training as mechanics. Their judgment has been vindicated by the employment of seven of them at Patterson Field as soon as they completed the course here.

What the future holds admittedly is conjectural. But, by and large, it depends on two primary factors—demand for aviation mechanics and men qualified to take the course. The night school will continue, it was said, to give men with regular daytime jobs a chance to better their position through study.

A new sheet metal shop course is to be started soon, to fill the demand for workers who can qualify for training as "wing men."

A machine shop is now being set up, Supt. Murray said, to train workers for other jobs in war factories.

It was emphasized that while the training is primarily for speeding war production, it will also provide the men with a trade for normal times.

OUR GRADUATES

This week another graduating class emerges from the portals of the Washington High School to enter after school activities which to many will be a difficult and confused start in their world of work. During the past two or three weeks other high schools of Fayette County concluded their graduation exercises with the young seniors, diplomas in hand, facing the same turbulent outlook.

Some of these graduates may have their immediate future "way of life" all carefully planned and prepared for them. Others not so fortunate, gravely look for an opportunity to make their way in a world that appears far from normal. None can know what the next few years may hold in store for them.

While we as friends and acquaintances are concerned for all these young graduates because of rapidly shifting conditions and unpredictable world-wide changes, what must be the feeling of hundreds of loving parents who find that trying to aid their children in making plans for the future today is far more difficult than during most periods of the past.

Somehow, we believe, these young people will meet the new problems of today as well as any of us met those of the past. We have an abiding confidence in these young people. Most of them have the spirit, the alertness and the ability to do the things which many older people, who lack youth's buoyant spirit, shudder over and avoid.

Our hats are doffed to these young graduates who look upon life with a cheerfulness that present conditions would not seem to warrant, yet we feel sure that they will win through.

To all of you, graduates of 1942, we wish Godspeed and the best of luck. We're betting on you as our real leaders of tomorrow.

BETTER EXPLAINING

Mr. Harold Ickes may be right and Mr. Leon Henderson may be right about what ought to be done by government and citizens in the matter of the gas and rubber shortages. But in one important point they are wrong: They do not explain well. More and better explaining is decidedly called for.

The American citizen will do anything that is right, anything that seems fair to him. He will do more and do without more than some authorities expect. He wants to win this war. He wants to help his government win this war.

But he's a citizen of a democratic country. He has a right to know what goes on and why. He is surprisingly patient about silence in regard to military

Washington at a Glance

By Charles P. Stewart

State Secretary Cordell Hull is taking steps to fool the old man with the scythe (the grim reaper, you know), if he can. Right now within "his prime," ere the pruning knife of time cuts him down" as the late Dr. Wendell Holmes (the former supreme court justice's father) expressed it in his poem, "The Last Leaf Upon the Tree," Cordell's trying to realize the politico-economic ideal of his life soon enough to make sure it'll keep on functioning on into indefinite futurity regardless of his own demise, even if it ends, and even if the undertaker's occurs before the present war's claim on his remainders has been exercised while his program's development is still somewhat in its incipency—but too darned incipient to be headed off at that late stage of the game.

Away back when he was in the house of representatives (and maybe before that, when he was a mere unofficial economist), Cordell Hull had contended that the way to prevent subsequent armed clashes between the world's countries was to get 'em mutually, upon so profitable, so all-around a commercial tie-up that they couldn't afford to fight one another.

He's boosted for the same system in the senate.

Today's Horoscope

The person celebrating a birthday today has a happy nature that looks on the bright side of things. Ambition, determination and enthusiasm he or she possesses in abundance. Such a one must, however, learn concentration and stick to the task at hand. Gain will come to this person in the next year in many ways—through the "arts," relatives, friends and travel. He is advised to expand his business or profession, but to be wary of deception. Happiness is also shown for this period. Fame will probably be won by the child who is born on this date. It will come through art, or the literary or journalistic world. Such a child will evince high technical skill and efficiency, but success will be accompanied by a threat of treachery.

information. He doesn't want to help the enemy. But he wants to know exactly why the gas is short, where it is short, and what is being done about it. The same is true of the rubber situation.

The American is willing to give up his tires, even his car, to the government if that is necessary. He is willing to drive at forty miles per hour or less, and to consume himself to three gallons per week—if that is necessary. But he wants to know exactly what the situation is, what his fair share of sacrifice is, how long shortages will probably last and in what direction they lead; also why they are necessary.

It is fair that he be told these things clearly and squarely. He's not a moron. He's an intelligent part of this body politic. He is entitled to his due.

Wartime Problems of National Nutrition

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

SOME MONTHS ago I spoke of the concentrated rations with which the Army is experimenting for soldiers in the field. This is the consummation of an old dream. One of the elements in slowing up a military attack is that the fighting units have to wait for the food wagon. They have to pause in their forward movement until the supply kitchens come up in order to give them enough energy to carry on.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

As far back as the Civil War the Quartermaster Corps began to experiment with concentrated rations which could be put in a small package and made light enough for the soldier to carry in his marching kit. During World War I this was not a very pressing problem because the armies and trenches were pretty well stabilized, but the present war of movement has made it highly desirable to have some such ration.

Concentrated Rations

It has not been possible either, in previous years, to construct such a ration scientifically because it has only been within the last ten years that we have realized the highly important part that the vitamins play in nutrition and a concentrated ration is naturally made up of processed foods which do not contain any vitamin unless they are added deliberately.

Now, however, with our knowledge of synthetic chemistry we can make crystalline vitamins and add them to processed food so that it takes on the qualities of natural food. I am informed that these concentrated rations are now perfected and available for combat troops.

The concentrated army ration is made in two forms, one in a small package about 2 x 3 inches which is known as United States Army Field Ration D. This contains a lump of food made up of chocolate, "milk, milk, vanilla and vinegar." It can be crumbled up and dissolved in water and furnishes about 1800 calories.

Soup by the Yard?

The use of dried foods is a new development which has been made possible by technical advances and since it is probable that the United States will have to feed the world for the next 50 years and we cannot afford to transport water, you may get into the habit of buying your soup by the yard.

There are two other forms of United States Army Field Rations—K and C—both of them somewhat more elaborate and having a higher caloric content and acting more like food than ration D. Ration K is divided into breakfast, dinner and supper units and has pork, graham crackers, coffee, sugar, malted milk, dextrose tablets for quick energy and also chewing gum.

A great deal of ingenuity has gone into the making of these rations such as, for instance, the production of butter that will not melt at body temperature. So far as I can see, they are entirely scientific and contain a full ration of food. The only fault that might be found with them is that they possibly are not as filling as regular food, but for a three- or four-day stretch this is not seriously inconvenient.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B. P.—"Is being left-handed inherited or just a habit?"

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

"THAT WAS what she told me," Tommy said to Steena later that same evening when Tibby had told him she was engaged to Wayne. "She said she had been engaged to this Courtwright lug—a man much too old for her—and as I told her, afterwards, a man she is marrying just for his money—so you see the whole thing was no use. That's why I'm calling it off—and I MEAN it."

Tommy had decided he was man, not mouse. He had decided he would make an end to this campaign and bargain. He had begun by absolutely refusing to go to the Jerome Davenport to be looked over by Steena's mother and stepfather. He had entrenched himself firmly in a chair in the apartment after Tibby had gone out and Steena had come in, refusing to budge.

"But Mother is expecting us!" Steena had insisted. "What will she think? What will everyone think? You simply cannot do this to me, Tommy Dare." Her green eyes were bright with anger, her mouth trembled. "You let me put that announcement in the papers." She had cut it out and mailed it to Wayne, so as to be sure that he would not miss it. She had thought it would wake him up, if nothing else did, even though Tommy claimed now that all the time Wayne already had been engaged to Tibby. "I don't believe it," Steena repeated stubbornly. She would not believe what she did not want to. "Something else will happen—you just wait and see."

"I'll wait," Tommy said grimly. It looked to him as if enough—too much—had happened as yet. "I'm sorry, Steena." You would think HE had made her put that crazy thing in the papers. "You'll simply have to say it's all off. What did it make what people think?" Tibby had believed it—and was going to marry someone else, since they—she and Tommy—had parted in anger. After he had told Tibby she was marrying for money, a man old enough to be her father and that he would not wish her happiness he knew she could not expect, Tib had sailed out of the room and when she had sailed through again she had not so much as looked at him.

Everything was over, forever, no matter what he could do, or say, or hint now.

That was why Tommy refused to go on any longer.

Steena said coldly, "You certainly are being chivalrous." If it were true that Tibby was wearing a ring, the way he had described it—maybe Steena would have to begin to believe it.

Tibby had never thought Tommy very chivalrous anyway. He said again, "I'm sorry," but he said it just as firmly as ever. He did not mean he was sorry about Steena. Pretty soon she would have him believing the whole crazy idea had originally been his. Since she was so good at ideas, she could think up a few others. "You can say anything you want. Say you jilted me. Say I decided to enlist in the Army. Say your mother and stepfather would not have me in the family, after they looked me over. I don't care what you say, only I'm not going on saying things that aren't so, acting things that aren't true, either."

He did not know what he was going to do. Maybe he would enlist at that. He had hoped to gain at least this year's experience in the clinic so that if the time came that America actually got into this world-wide war he could enlist as a doctor. Doctors would be needed. It would be a terrible war, worse than any other.

"Very well," Steena said. It was no use. This time Tommy's will was stronger than hers, his decision more final. She was tired of all the small deceptions and schemings, too tired of trying to make Wayne come to heel, because, if all his attentions, all his kisses had meant nothing, what was the use? You couldn't MAKE a man marry you, no matter how clever you were, how beautiful. If you succeeded you would not want him unless he found he really wanted you. Steena did not know what she would say to save face, but she would say something. She did not know what she would do, either, now that she found it was Wayne she had wanted, and not his millions.

She had thought, like Tibby, that she could keep out of and away from love. It seemed to lead to so much trouble. She had thought she could set her own pattern, choose her fate, steer the course she wished by whatever star she picked. It seemed she could not; no one could. There was Marg, for instance. Steena had blamed Marg for breaking the rules, for losing her heart and not using her head. She had not given her any pity or understanding, but she had not, as she supposed Marg believed, gone to Captain Mercer's wife with the rumors that had caused Mrs. Mercer to go to the company and later still, the captain to resign and sail for Hawaii.

That had been the work of Miss Picklepuus, as the girls called the chief hostess. It was not very pretty work, not any prettier than the petty things that Steena herself had been up to. She had felt them justified, that all was fair in love and war.

No wonder Wayne did not love her; being so experienced, he probably had seen through her. He probably had realized she had hoped to marry him for his money, although he could not know that the hope had been wiped out, replaced by the love she felt for him now that it was too late to do anything about it. She would not do anything more; she, as well as Tommy, was through. She would wait, too, although there was little hope in her heart, since she felt—as well as Tommy and Tibby—that everything was settled.

It might have been settled—had not the following Sunday been December 7, 1941, a day to go down in history, a day when a new slogan was born, a day to affect the individual lives of everyone, to change the course of their patterns, the course of the entire world.

On that Sunday, the Japanese struck, even while their diplomats were talking peace with our president in Washington, while the world waited, hopeful, in spite of the ugly, mounting rumors, that peace might be preserved.

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR—that was the slogan stamped indelibly on every American heart, written in the annals of history for all time to come.

America had been attacked. America declared war the following day in President Roosevelt's dramatic, soul-stirring speech, heard all over the world by radio, in every home in the United States, in many homes across the seas. It brought hope to all those little assailed countries with their enslaved peoples, uniting all people, everywhere, whose hearts believed in freedom and democracy, and whose minds believed in God.

Marg was the one who chanced to tune in, that Sunday mid-afternoon, to hear the first broadcast of that fearful, unjustified and cowardly attack. This news struck closest to her heart, since Captain Mercer was there at Pearl Harbor. Hers was the most personal and immediate reaction.

To think that she had sent John to this, perhaps his death! Because of her, he was in the middle of that war he had foreseen in its very beginning. She knew it would be weeks before she would know whether he was safe or not. She knew, too, that if it had been possible, he would have done his part. Even though it might be that he had not played that part unharmed—that death itself had been the price—that was what he would have wished, the way he would have wanted it.

Man's spirit was wings," John had said. His spirit had, she knew. Flying, fighting, that would be John's way to meet and confirm his faith.

When Tibby, and a little later, Steena, came in, they found Marg pale, but composed. Tibby knew, though, that she had heard the terrible news, that she was fearful for the safety, the life of her captain.

"It's war!" That was all Marg said, quietly, purposefully—as her country was to meet this same statement, from its president, the next day.

Uncle Sam's Doughgirls Sure Look Natty

By DOROTHY ROE

(Wide World News Service)

Poor Pallas Athene, As Greek Goddess of Victory she had to win her wars encumbered by those flowing robes which were required equipment for the residents of Mount Olympus.

Now as patron saint of the newly organized Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, she must be green with envy as she views those trig new uniforms of Uncle Sam's modern doughgirls, who have chosen Pallas Athene's likeness for their insignia.

Slim, trim and streamlined are the new uniforms of the WAAC, which represent a triumph at the takeoff for the women's army. In creating the new uniforms, Army designers sought the expert advice of well-known stylists, and the result is a happy blending of military trimness and feminine swank.

The officer's winter dress uniform, pictured herewith, is a fitting companion to dashing uniforms of male Army officers, tailored with exactness and kept strictly within WPB regulations, of course.

The jacket is the same dark olive drab covert cloth as that of the regular army, with a lighter skirt in the same material as that used for officers' trousers.

The WAAC auxiliary, corresponding in rank to the Army private, has an equally becoming uniform cut on the same trim lines as that of her sister officer, with skirt and jacket of matching olive drab in a slightly lighter tone.

Summer uniforms are of light cotton twill in khaki color, for both officers and auxiliaries.

Rank insignia of the WAAC will be the same as for Army officers of corresponding grade. The head of Pallas Athene, in gold color metal will adorn the uniforms of both officers and auxiliaries of the WAAC, in cut-out style for officers and imposed on a disc for auxiliaries. All uniforms have plastic buttons, single-breasted, four-button packets and detachable belts.

And just to prove that the Army is up on its points of feminine style, each WAAC member gets a handsome handbag of golden tobacco brown fabric, matching the tone of her smart brown oxfords.

Says Pallas Athene: "I lived 3,000 years too soon!"

Mrs. Halliday Opens Home for Woman's Guild

Bringing to a close the year's meetings, Mrs. Carroll Halliday graciously opened her lovely country home for the regular meeting of the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon.

It was a most delightful affair, for which thirty members gathered to enjoy the pleasures of the afternoon.

Chairs had been arranged on the large shaded lawn of the home, where the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Helen Elliott. Informal visiting preceded the meeting, with the ladies enjoying the cool and refreshing comforts of the out-door meeting.

Mrs. S. A. Dewey had the devotional service, and offered a prayer.

Mrs. Arthur Leland, chairman of the nominating committee, presented to the ladies the same officers of last year, who were retained for another year. They are: president, Mrs. Helen P. Elliott; first vice president, Mrs. Perse Harlow; second vice president, Mrs. Edgar Col; third vice president, Mrs. Harry Sprenger; fourth vice president, Mrs. C. H. Thoroman; past president, Mrs. W. C. Allen; secretary, Mrs. Mayron Mark; assistant secretary, Mrs. Arthur Leland; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Hays; assistant treasurer, Mrs. John Steele.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Halliday and her assisting hostesses invited the ladies into the lovely home for a cooling and delicious course.

A profusion of gorgeous peonies, in every shade, were admired throughout the house.

The ladies lingered until a late hour, reluctant to leave such an enjoyable affair.

The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Hugh Perrill, Mrs. E. J. Cunningham, Mrs. John Forsythe, Mrs. Clark Pensyl, Mrs. C. O. Dewey, Mrs. Charles Schwartz, Mrs. Warren Durkee, Mrs. Emerson Warner, Mrs. Charles Reinke, Mrs. William Rodgers, Mrs. Peter Smeltzer, Mrs. C. A. Kelley, Mrs. W. E. Klever, Mrs. Harold Callender, Mrs. Charles Sexton, Mrs. C. L. Musser, Mrs. Lydia Williams, Mrs. Walter Thompson, Mrs. Maryon Mark.

Luncheon—Bridge Club Met with Mrs. R. R. Willis

Including two guests, Mrs. Judith Robinson and Mrs. Russell Andrews with the members, Mrs. Richard R. Willis was an attractive hostess to her luncheon bridge club Wednesday.

The guests were seated at the dining table, beautifully appointed for the luncheon. Lovely crystal service was used, and a most artistic centerpiece was formed of two crystal vases filled with myrtle. The luncheon hour was a happy one, with the hostess promoting delightful pleasures.

The pivot bridge game was keenly played, and at its close, Mrs. Willis presented high score awards to Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Ralph Lloyd.

Gay Breakfast Party

Among the many parties given during the commencement week of Washington High School, one of the gayest affairs was the breakfast entertained on Tuesday morning by Mrs. Harold Callender, in compliment to her son, Charles, a member of this year's graduating class.

The breakfast was served at one long table and a small one in the dining room. The tables were pictures of distinct beauty, with the class colors used in the decorations. Talisman roses were beautiful in a green pottery bowl as the centerpiece. Graduated candles of green ran lengthwise of the table, which was covered with a snowy white linen cloth. The course was particularly delicious, and the breakfast hour a happy one.

White Oak WSCS

WSCS of White Oak Grove held their basket dinner meeting Wednesday with Mrs. Frank Theobald, near Hillsboro. Thirty-five members and guests were present to enjoy the generous hospitalities offered by the hostess.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Willard Allen. The devotions were conducted by Mrs. Jed Stookey. Contests and reports of trips taken by members in former days were enjoyed.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in informal visiting and enjoying the lovely yard of the hostess' home.

Mrs. Aulbin Hedges charmingly filled the role of hostess to her dessert bridge club Wednesday, when she entertained with a pretty party at the lovely home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Jackson.

Roses from Mrs. Jackson's garden were admired in their effective arrangements throughout the house.

The course was served at the dining table prettily appointed. A large bowl of pink and white rosebuds formed the centerpiece, and were fragrant as well as beautiful.

The bridge game was gaily contested during the afternoon, with Mrs. Ronald Cornwell receiving high score award.

Mrs. Leonard Korn was a guest with the members.

Grace Church Day

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in Grace Church Wednesday at 11 o'clock for the usual church day activities.

Mrs. Ray Perrill conducted the devotional period in a most interesting way.

Mrs. Mable Blessing had charge of the business period. Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee and Mrs. Jean Nisley gave very complete reports on the National Assembly which was held in Columbus in May.

The delicious luncheon in the dining room was in charge of Circle No. 6, Miss Fanny McLean, chairman.

The afternoon program was arranged by Mrs. Warren Schleich. Her subject was "China". The first part of the program was in the form of a quiz session. Those taking part were: Mrs. David Rowe, Mrs. Frank Hays, Mrs. Glenn Rodgers, Mrs. John Dial, Mrs. Robert Minshall and Mrs. Forrest Hill.

The second part was a playlet by Mrs. W. W. Montgomery and her two daughters, June and Alice Lee, depicting a scene at Gingling College in China. Mrs. Orpha Cheney Avann spoke briefly of the conference she attended in New York City as one of the trustees of the missionary colleges in China.

Mrs. Schleich closed the program by reading a very lovely poem entitled "I Choose a Heaven."

Keep 'em rolling! We mean dollars! Buy U. S. Savings Bonds and Stamps.

Mrs. I. C. Coffman, Mrs. Wert Penwell, Mrs. Hughey Backenstoe, Mrs. Howard Burnett and Miss Mary Robinson.

Combining a delicious dinner with the regular meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hire were host and hostess to their dinner bridge club on Wednesday evening.

The guests gathered at the Washington Country Club, where a most delicious dinner was served at a prettily appointed table, arranged in an alcove of the spacious room. A water-garden of exquisite blaze roses, was the centerpiece.

Following the dinner, the gracious host and hostess took their guests to their attractive home on Yeoman street for an evening of cards.

Included in the delightful evening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuhs and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Perrill.

Rose Luncheon

The Women's Missionary Circle of the First Baptist Church were entertained with a rose luncheon at the church home for their June meeting.

Following the elaborate luncheon, the meeting was opened by the devotionals, with Mrs. Milo Smith reading the 27th Psalm, and Mrs. Kate Follis offering prayer.

Mrs. Artie Jackson, president, presided over the business session. Mrs. John Case gave a very interesting report on the women's work at the Northern Baptist Convention, which was held in Cleveland last week.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. I. C. Coffman, Mrs. Wert Penwell, Mrs. Hughey Backenstoe, Mrs. Howard Burnett and Miss Mary Robinson.

Roland Hopkins Lynch and Miss Ellen Ruberta Speer Exchange Vows Wednesday

In the lovely old Presbyterian Church in Worthington, Miss Ellen Ruberta Speer became the bride of Mr. Roland Hopkins Lynch at a ceremony performed Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock by Dr. George Parkinson. A half hour of beautiful nuptial music preceded the wedding.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Ruberta B. Speer, 3007 Neil Avenue, Columbus, had selected a light beige suit with which she wore black and white accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of white orchids.

Miss Doris Jean Speer attended her sister as maid of honor and wore an aquamarine suit with white accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Best man for Mr. Lynch, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Lynch, was Mr. Ralph Dean Engle, who has been an intimate friend of the groom for a long number of years.

Following the service, Mrs. Speer was hostess at a wedding breakfast at the Athletic Club for 14 guests. She wore an aquamarine suit with black and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Lynch had chosen a powder blue redingot with which she wore black and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Georgia and has been employed at the Ohio Farm Bureau.

Mr. Lynch will receive a degree in mechanical engineering from Ohio State University this month.

A young man of sterling qualities, he has won many honors in his academic work in both college and in Washington C. H. High School, where he was an honor pupil.

Later the couple will leave for a wedding trip which will take them to their future home in San Diego, California, where Mr. Lynch is associated with the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation.

Included in the wedding guests was Mr. Robert Hagerty, of Washington C. H.

Dinner Club Entertained at Country Club

Combining a delicious dinner with the regular meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hire were host and hostess to their dinner bridge club on Wednesday evening.

The guests gathered at the Washington Country Club, where a most delicious dinner was served at a prettily appointed table, arranged in an alcove of the spacious room. A water-garden of exquisite blaze roses, was the centerpiece.

Jr. Hi-Y Annual Party Held on Wednesday Night

In the many events of the closing days of school, one of the gayest and merriest parties was staged Wednesday night when the Junior Hi-Y held their annual party.

The large group of boys and their guests assembled for a hay ride in trucks furnished by Robert Terhune and David Thompson, which took them to London where they enjoyed the swimming pool. A picnic supper, prepared by the girls, was arranged on tables in the grounds around the pool, and was gaily enjoyed.

Returning to this city, the happy young people gathered at Gardner Park where dancing was enjoyed in the Field House.

A delightful event of the evening came when David Thompson took each member to his home in the hay truck.

Emerson Ludwick Dance Revue To Be June 10

The Emerson Ludwick Dance Revue, "Dances of 1942" to be presented at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening, June 10, at 8:15, promises to be one of the most colorful yet presented by this school.

An entirely new and different setting has been arranged for the opening number, a Hula Hula group presenting Rebecca Jane Armbrust, Nancy Barney, Audrey Beedy, June Powless, Jo Lynn Parrett, Annette Sullivan, Mary Lou Secrets and Barbara Sue Willis, the tap Hula by Joyce Jamison and Nancy Lee Hewitt with the vocal rendition of "Sweet Lileani" by Jane Pittenger. Several novelty and ballet numbers add variety.

Lucinda Harper, a most talented and graceful ballet dancer of outstanding ability will appear in two numbers this year. One a toe and the other a ballet. Marianna Allen and Kathryn Foster also from the ballet department will add a graceful peasant dance and Jane Ann a gavotte.

Shirley Sharrett will perform in a song and stair dance.

Doris Steed, Esther Straley, Phyllis Pittenger and Buddy Carr, professional students will have soft shoe and fast tap dances.

The babies of the school will be seen in "The Rattlebox Brigade." They are Natacha Many Badgley, Ruth Milena De Bolt, Zana Cowdrey and Jacequeline Lee Hoppes.

Donald Riber again has charge of the lighting.

Tickets are being sold by the students and reserved seats go on sale Saturday at Patton's Book Store.

NO CHANCE IN MOTOR TRAFFIC SET-UP IN CITY

No New Problem Exists at Present Time Declares City Manager

Regarding Governor John W. Bricker's request that all Ohio mayors set up transportation committees and make immediate surveys of their communities to help conserve tires, City Manager Edwin Ducey said Thursday that no change was anticipated in the present transportation set-up in this city, which is headed by Hugh Thompson.

Ducey stated that by reason of no extensive industrial plants here that would result in a real traffic problem for industrial workers, he believed the present committee could adequately handle the problem for sometime to come, at least.

In announcing plans for dealing with the rapidly increasing transportation problem, due to tire shortages, and adding new names to his state transportation committee, the governor sent to the mayors a list of recommendations stemming from a committee meeting in Columbus May 4, including:

Survey each community; stagger work hours to lighten peak-hour loads on bus and street car lines; encourage factory workers to double-up rides in private cars; eliminate unnecessary stops by buses and street cars to speed up service.

George C. McConaughy, transportation committee chairman and Ohio Public Utilities Commission chairman, declared that, regardless of some public statements that the rubber shortage is not serious, "we should proceed on the theory that tires will not be available for private vehicles for at least two and one-half or three years."

New members of the committee not previously announced include Highway Director Hal G. Sours, Mayor Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland, Mayor John Carey of Toledo, President Walter Draper of the Cincinnati Street Railway Co., and others are members of the state department.

The major transportation problem for this city—that of providing transportation to and from Wright and Patterson fields for scores of workers, has been met by the local transportation committee, although some buses are becoming crowded as result of increased patronage, it is understood.

Special bus service was obtained for the workers employed at the two big airports.

ANNENBERG IS RELEASED FROM FEDERAL PRISON

LEWISBURG, Pa., June 4—(P)—M. L. Annenberg, Philadelphia publisher, was released from the Northeastern Federal Penitentiary on parole because of his health after serving 23 months of a three-year sentence in the largest individual income tax case on record.

He was scheduled for parole June 11, but an official said the date was moved forward eight days upon the recommendation of physicians.

U. S. SHIPS IN CONVOY THAT CROSSED TO RUSSIA

LONDON, June 4—(P)—United States ships were included in the large convoy which fought its way to Murmansk last week through five days and nights of heavy attacks by German U-boats, dive bombers and torpedo planes, official circles reported today.

Russian and British ships also were in the convoy, which bore tanks and aircraft to Soviet armies.

NEW YORK DIMMED

NEW YORK, June 4—(P)—Nightly quasi-blackouts with every window and skylight screened and every outdoor sign dimmed have been ordered for duration for coastal areas of New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Sabina Community

Attend Sparks Funeral

Among out of town relatives and friends attending last rites for Mrs. J. W. Sparks were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Haines, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Craig, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barns of Clarksville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. John Black and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Johnson of Mansfield, Mrs. Raymond Rittenour of Jamestown, Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Snyder, New Antioch, Mrs. Paul Hawes, Mrs. Grace Palmer, London, Mr. Harry Sparks, Mrs. L. T. Everhart and daughter, Diana, of Washington C. H.

Girl Scouts Present Plays

Sabina Girl Scouts presented two plays "Buzzies Babies" and "Girl Scout Week" at the school auditorium.

Both plays were well rendered, each character acting her part in an excellent manner and with much precision.

At the close, badges earned for the year's work were given out by their leader, Mrs. I. Mack Jones.

The girls regret the loss of Mrs. Jones, who is moving to Wilmington and who has been a very capable leader.

For the present Mrs. James E. Ross and Mrs. J. Eugene Dabe will be co-leaders of the Scouts.

Attends S. S. Class Meeting

Mrs. Lon Rhonemus attended the all day meeting and pot luck dinner of her Sunday School Class at the Lees Creek Church, Thursday.

The 15 ladies present enjoyed the delicious food and following the prolonged dinner hour the class president, Mrs. Rhoda Jones conducted the business meeting and the afternoon was spent in joining the quilt squares which the ladies had already pieced and brought to the meeting.

Plans were made to piece a comfort top at once for a worthy family.

Alumni Association Meets

The Sabina Alumni Association held a most delightful meeting and welcomed the Senior class of 1942, to the beautifully decorated school auditorium last Friday evening.

The banquet was prepared by the committee from the Mothers Club, served by the high school freshmen from tables arranged in V shape, with the class table in the center tastily decorated in patriotic colors and lovely spring flowers.

Supt. Runyan introduced the class sponsor, Mr. Bechtel, who in turn introduced each member of the class. Fred Wilson, second vice president, gave the address of welcome and Glen Pollard, class president, responded.

Following the invocation, a delicious steak dinner was served. Walter Shoop with his accordion furnished music during the meal. Group singing was then enjoyed with Walter and his sister.

Mrs. E. R. Millig leading. They also gave several special selections and T. O. Dakin recalled to our minds many incidents of former school days and told of the difference along lines of education yesterday and today as he spoke on "Reminiscence."

During the business session, Jesse Carter was elected president for 1943, with other officers as follows: first vice president, Dick Pavey; second vice president, Robert Wilson; secretary, Louise Hoppes, cor. secretary, Mrs. Richard Gaskins and Treasurer, Donald Sparks.

Ronald Chase's Orchestra, of Washington C. H. furnished peppy music for the dance, which was enjoyed by a large number of couples, several from other communities.

Among out of town members attending Alumni were Eugene Craig, of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Craig, of Columbus, Bill Bottenfield, Charleston, W. Va., Mrs. Margaret Rankin Sandham, of Dayton, Corporal George McVey and Private Billy Kelso of Patterson Field, Fairfield, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Dalton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Dabe, of Xenia, Alice Sexton, Cedarville, Mrs. E. J. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Channel, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Orville C. Ellis, Mrs. Ruby Pearson Sperry, Mrs. Thomas J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Meredith Darbyshire, of Wilmington, Glen Rhonemus, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brown, Donald Anderson of Washington C. H.

Wedding Announced

Mrs. Emerson Fisher, of Wilmington, entertained a number of friends of Miss Edythe Fisher, at a delightful bridge party and tea. Mrs. Raymond Hackney, of Bainbridge, poured from a beautifully decorated table and hidden among the pretty flowers used, was a miniature airplane bearing the message, "Edythe and Harold, Early Summer."

Mrs. Louise Hoppes of Sabina was a guest.

Miss Fisher has been teaching in Sabina High School for a number of years and has many friends.

The announcement came as a great surprise.

Mr. Harold Haworth is from Wilmington and he, too, has many friends who are wishing them both much happiness in the future.

Advisory Council Meets

Farm Bureau Advisory Council No. 14 held its May meeting at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Snider with 16 members and one guest, Mrs. James D. Boyd, of Cincinnati, present.

Herman Snider, chairman, presided over the business session.

Mrs. Nelson Case led an interesting discussion on "Political Affairs." Mrs. William Waddell was recreational leader.

During the social hour Mrs. Snider and her daughters, Mrs.

Boyd and Jirdena, served a delicious two course luncheon.

Entertain Lima Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McVey entertained on Decoration a party of relatives who came from Lima for a picnic dinner and supper at their country home on the CCC Highway. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Evans, Sr., Miss Mary Evans, Miss Edith Page, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Evans, Mrs. Patti Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Evans, Jr., and son.

Leave for Fishing Trip

T. J. Rankin with Russell Fisher of Port William, left Sunday for an extended fishing trip at Lake of Woods, Ontario.

Attend Races

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Miller, Robert Wilson and Miss Fanchon Swingle with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer of Cincinnati, attended the harness races at Washington C. H. Saturday afternoon and later enjoyed a picnic supper.

Children's Day Services

The Church of Christ will hold Children's Day services next Sunday morning just after the Sunday School hour.

Rev. and Mrs. Jones Leave

Rev. and Mrs. Mack Jones will move to Wilmington next Friday, going to assist in the work at the college. He will return here each Sunday and preach at the Friends Church until August.

FUND CAMPAIGN FOR YM-YW IS SHORT OF GOAL

Program Will Be Carried as Far as Possible—Money Is Still Acceptable

The annual YM-YW fund-raising campaign has come to an end and the results, admittedly, were not all that had been hoped for.

But, the secretary of the combined associations, Mrs. Rankin Paul, said with a tone of determination: "We will go as far as we can with the money we have."

The meeting called for the solicitors to make their final reports through their team captains failed to give the complete answer. Only a few of the soliciting groups were represented and not all of them reported in full.

As near as the committee can tell, approximately $1,300 has been contributed to maintain the "bigger and better" youth program here for the year just now starting. The budget, after being pared of all frills, called for $2,500.

However, there remained one ray of hope. There are still "a lot of loose ends" to be collected and these, it was said, might bring the total up to $2,000.

Although the campaign has come to an end formally, it was said that contributions would still be accepted—and that solicitation would continue on a more or less informal basis. There will be no more meetings of the campaign committee, however. From now on, the solicitors will be contacted individually.

The results of the campaign were different this year in one respect for which the board members were grateful. Most of the contributions were in cash. There were "very few" pledges made. In past campaigns, it was said, the pledges have been one of the big sources of worry and even then not all of the money pledged could be collected.

The fact that the associations are out of debt is viewed with considerable relief, too. Heretofore, it was said, funds raised in the campaigns frequently ran out before the end of the year and the associations were compelled to borrow money to finish out. Much of the blame for this situation was placed on uncollected pledges.

Just how far the program will go is conjectural. The secretary and the directors have expressed the hope, with a small degree of assurance, that it can be carried out without too much sacrifice. Already ways and means of trimming off a few of the less essential activities are underway. Economy will be the watchword for the next 12 months and volunteer service will be the background of the program.

A meeting of the joint board is to be called within the next ten days to give the plans for the summer months serious consideration.

Mrs. Thomas Bernard will be hostess to members of the Richmond USCS of their church at her home north of Sabina Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Hoffman of Dayton visited Saturday with Sabina relatives.

Corporal George McVey has been transferred from Patterson Field to Columbus, where he will enter training school.

Pavey-Dupler Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Pavey of Sabina are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Harriett, to Lieut. James R. Dupler of Lancaster.

The ceremony took place in the chapel of the First Methodist Church in Houston, Tex., Saturday, April 25, at 6 P. M. The bride wore a blue and white silk jersey dress with white accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of tiny pink rosebuds.

Miss Louise Deerman of Houston served as bridesmaid, and Lieut. Arthur Hall of Ellington Field was best man.

As the bridal party entered the chapel the wedding march from Lohengrin was played and during the ceremony read by Rev. Paul Quillen, the organ played softly "I Love You Truly" and "Tonight We Love."

Immediately following the ceremony, Lieut. Dupler and his bride went to Galveston, Tex., for a short honeymoon.

Mrs. Dupler received her education at Sabina High School and Office Training School, Columbus. She has been employed in the Office of Price Administration in Houston.

Lieut. Dupler is a graduate of Amanda High School and attended OSU 3 years in preparation for law school. He enlisted in the U. S. Air Corps in November, 1941, was stationed at Cimarron Field, Okla., and received his wings and commission at Ellington Field, near Houston.

Lieut. and Mrs. Dupler left Wednesday evening, after a visit with her parents, for their new home in Columbia, S. C., where he is now stationed.

Miss Helen Probasco, Sabina High School teacher, who has managed the hotel at the Conference Grounds here the past two years, has resigned and accepted a position at the West Virginia Ordnance Works at Point Pleasant, for the summer months.

Mrs. A. G. McNamara, who manages the cafeteria at Williamson High School, will succeed Miss Probasco here.

Leroy Senne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Senne has been chosen to go to the Buckeye Boys State this summer. Sabina Lions will sponsor Senne's trip and he will go to Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, this year, where previously Boys State had been held at Ohio State Fair Grounds. Six others will go from Clinton County.

MORE CZECHS EXECUTED FOR ATTACK ON HEYDRICH

LONDON, June 4—(AP)—Another 21 Czechs have been put to death in reprisal for the shooting of Reinhard Heydrich, Gestapo boss of Czecho-Slovakia, the Nazi-controlled Prague radio announced today.

These deaths raised to 132 the toll exacted by the Germans since Heydrich was shot just a week ago. Twenty-three of the 132 were women.

To Rouse Flow of LIVER BILE

Normally about a quart of digestion-aiding bile should be discharged into the intestines every day. A scanty flow—a slowing-up may cause sick headaches, bowel sluggishness and so-called bilious indigestion with its half-sick, sour feeling.

If you suffer from such symptoms because you need more bile released from the gall-bladder, try world famous Kruschen Salts. Get a bottle tonight—start right in tomorrow morning and take as much as will lie on a dime in a glass of water (hot or cold) half an hour before breakfast or in your morning cup of tea or coffee, and keep it up for 30 days, don't miss a morning and note the results for yourself. You can get Kruschen, a famous English formula made in the U. S. A., at the Downtown Drug Store or any drug store. You must be satisfied or money back.

CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS Note: For an occasional cathartic or purgative to relieve common constipation, we believe there is nothing better than quiet-acting Kruschen in larger doses—try it according to directions on the bottle.

BARRYMORE ESTATE
LOS ANGELES, June 4—(AP)—The estate of John Barrymore, who earned more than a million dollars in his lifetime as an actor, amounts to $10,000 or less in cash, plus personal property.

Can Germany Survive Devastation of Air War?

HITLER FAILED IN ENGLAND—BUT RAF IS WORSE

Serious Blow Being Dealt Hitler's Arms Production And Morale of People

BEWITT MACKENZIE
(Wide World News Service)
Cologne! Essen! And after that? Some twenty-one years ago the late General Giulio Douhet, one time head of Italy's military aviation, advanced a theory which has come to bear his name—that a nation could be forced to surrender in forty-eight hours through systematic destruction of its cities by waves of enemy bombers. Indeed, he gave a hypothetical picture of France and Belgium plowed under in two days by a mighty German air offensive.

Douhet's idea was that as city after city fell, the morale of the population would go to pieces, and the government would lose all control.

During the frightful months of August and September two years ago, after the collapse of France, it looked as though Hitler was going to demonstrate in large degree the Douhet theory. Horrible death and devastation poured from the clouds until it seemed that the tortured nerves of the people of Britain could stand no more. But they turned their brave faces to the skies and defied the enemy.

It seemed that Hitler had shown us the limit of bombing possibilities. But two years have brought great changes, and we now see far more powerful air fleets carrying to German cities the catastrophe of which Douhet dreamed.

A huge portion of the ancient Rhenish city of Cologne lies in ruins. The neighboring city of Essen, with its vast Krupp armament works, has undergone a similar experience, and Hitler's main source of munitions has been given a terrific blasting.

And this is only the beginning of a systematic destruction of German cities, one by one. British Premier Churchill has promised that.

To what ends will such striking-power carry the Allies? We should regard with reserve predictions that the Anglo-American air forces can reduce the Germans to impotency without the necessity of opening a second land front in Western Europe.

Will German morale stand this new terror? Time alone will tell.

We do know the Nazi chief is being dealt a fierce and perhaps irreparable blow. We lack details about Krupp, but the loss of any considerable portion of this mainstay of German arms would be a major disaster for the Nazis.

If the Allies are able to continue this great aerial offensive, the German armies soon will feel the pinch of lack of supplies. That will be a heavy setback at a moment when Hitler wants every ounce of strength to try for a decision this summer—like his last chance.

HITLER IS STRENGTHENING NAZI GANG TO LOOT WORLD; SOLDIERS ARE SUSPICIOUS

perhaps, even quicker to sense it. The army with its thrust through Poland, its blitz victory in the west, and its conquest in Yugoslavia and Greece appealed more to the public imagination than the brown-shirted, rather pot-bellied Nazi war heeler who remained at home to organize the distribution of food cards, check up on the loyalty of the population, and render other service far from the din and danger of battle.

No sooner did the top men notice how the party was slipping in popular esteem, than they began to play up the exploits of party functionaries in the Goebbels-controlled press. There were articles to prove that the majority of the SS Brown-shirts were playing a heroic role at the front, that the black-uniformed SS was in the vanguard in every military undertaking requiring courage and fearlessness, that the party was taking upon itself the thankless role of unostentatious heroism at the home front.

At home, too, the party was more and more intrenching itself. An American business man returning with us on the Drottningholm told me this story which I repeat, not because it is unusual but because it is typical of what I learned again and again before my internment almost six months ago:

"My brother-in-law," this man said, "a German manufacturer in Munich, in 1938 bought up an old merry-go-round solely to use the brass for manufacturing purposes. He neglected to report the deal to the economics ministry. Recently this oversight was discovered by the authorities, my brother-in-law was indicted and fined 250,000 marks (equivalent to $100,000).

"My brother-in-law pleaded with the judge to moderate the severity of the sentence. 'Are you, perhaps, a party member?' the judge asked.

"'Sorry, but I never got around to that. I've tended to my business and haven't bothered about politics.'"

"That's too bad," the judge observed. "You see, if you were a party member, the presumption would be that your patriotism is beyond the shadow of doubt, wherefore your failure to report the brass gained from the carousel may be presumed to be a mere oversight. The fact that you are not a party member throws doubt on your loyalty, and we must assume you tried to cheat the government. So you must pay the full fine."

Reich's Justice Minister Hans Frank, who is also governor-general of Poland, has on more than one occasion stated that in Germany two kinds of justice prevail—for the man or woman who belongs to the party or one of its numerous subsidiaries, and for the hapless individual who hasn't embraced the Nazi faith. The latter, like the Jew in Nazi Germany, is usually out of luck.

During the last months of my stay in Germany I noted one more ominous and portentous sign of Hitler's determination to make the party even more dominant after the completion of the war than it now is. . . .

At all sorts of strategic intersections of Berlin—on corners like Kufuerstendamm and Uhlandstrasse, to mention but one example—the Gestapo was removing the tenants of corner buildings and putting SS families in their instead. And the ground-floor corner flat was converted into an SS stronghold, with machine guns and hand grenades and other instrumentalities for waging civil war in case of an uprising.

Soldiers returning to Berlin on furlough had no illusions as to the significance of these SS posts.

"We know perfectly well that after we've done our duty we shall be swept into the discard," they would say in a tone of resignation. "We'll probably be dismissed as we reach the gates of our home-towns. Then the party will again take control of the situation, and the SS will see to it that discipline is maintained."

"Saboteur" a Thrilling Four-Star Hit Coming To the State

"Saboteur" a story of war time America starring Robert Cummings and Priscilla Lane will be shown at the State Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Here's the exciting story of a boy and girl who outwit and outfight a sinister ring of American traitors. You'll see them in a thrilling escape from California to New York . . . how they are trapped and how they heroically win against odds. And the strange thing is they are just a boy and girl like you and you . . . loving their country more than each other. You might wonder how it could happen to them. You'll have a rare movie thrill when you find out. It's made by the master of the unexpected, Alfred Hitchcock, who gave you "Rebecca," "Foreign Correspondent" and "Suspicion." You'll agree "Saboteur" is Hitchcock at his best.

Feature No. 2 coming to the State Theatre Sunday "Butch Minds the Baby," is Damon Runyan's best and funniest story! You'll laugh at Brod Crawford, you'll roar at Virginia Bruce, you'll scream at Dick Foran, you'll say it's the funniest picture you've ever seen!

Do your part on the Home Front. You can help in your own kitchen by conserving your Gas Range to make it last as long as possible. A little care is sure to give you more efficient and economical service from your present range.

SOME "DO'S"

1. Wipe top enamel with soft cloth while range is warm . . . NOT HOT.
2. Wash trays, doors and racks with warm soapy water. Wipe dry.
3. Use stiff bristle brush to clean burners if they clog.

SOME "DON'TS"

1. Don't allow spilled food to burn into top burners, oven or broiler.
2. Don't place wet dishes or glasses on enamel top.
3. Don't boil aluminum or enamel burners in soda solution.

URGED TO BUY WINTER'S COAL WITHOUT DELAY

Adequate Delivery Later
Is Doubtful Due to Transportation

Perry L. Green, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, is urging farmers to anticipate their next winter's coal needs and order immediately in order to avoid serious transportation shortages later.

Apparently the same advice holds good for all families who heat with coal, whether on the farm or in the city, for day by day more and more tires on coal trucks are giving way, and greater demands are being made upon rail transportation facilities.

In his appeal to the farmers, Green says: "Present deliveries from mines to coal yards are far behind, but unless we are able to spread the mid-summer load peak for rail carriers out into early summer and spring, many homes will go heatless, or their occupants will have to put up with sooty heating from poor coal."

Pointing out that great lakes ore boats, which have been used heretofore in transporting coal, will no longer be available for that purpose, Green added that "rail carriers, are already loaded with an unusually heavy 'normal' traffic. Even the usual civilian demands of the peak season will overtax facilities; what will happen if those are superseded by war demands?"

In calling for cooperation in "hoarding" coal, Green pointed out that if the 100,000 members and patrons of the 82 County Farm Bureau Cooperative in Ohio alone complied with the request, the seriousness of the situation would be considerably mitigated and the chances for coal for everyone must stronger.

PRICE OF GUINEA PIGS UP AND SCIENCE NEEDS THEM

COLUMBUS, June 4.—(AP)—Want to sell a guinea pig to science? If so, you must have disregarded "Wanted: Guinea pigs" ads.

Many breeders of the furry little rodents are in the army or better paying factory jobs and haven't the time to bother with hordes of guinea pigs, Ohio State University scientists reported today.

The few suitable pigs on the market are bringing as much as a dollar instead of the former top of 35 cents in normal times, they said.

RENT CODE VIOLATORS FACE SPEEDY ACTION

CLEVELAND, June 4.—(AP)—Landlords who deliberately violate rent regulations of the Office of Price Administration will be "dealt with speedily," said Rowland D. Schell, regional rent executive. Regulations controlling rents became effective Monday in Akron, Canton, Ravenna, Youngstown and Cleveland.

Too little, too late, too bad! There is still time to buy U. S. Defense Bonds and Stamps.

SENIORS FACE CHAOTIC WORLD AFTER GRADUATION

CLASS OFFICERS

John Wesley King

(Vice President)
Cozella Elaine Smith
(Secretary)
Jean Paul
(Treasurer)

The biggest class ever to be graduated from WHS will go out to make their way in a world torn by war and uncertainty. Not in a quarter of a century—since the last World War—has a class of high school graduates faced such perplexing problems.

They will be handed their diplomas at the 66th annual commencement exercise Thursday night. That will mark the end of school days for many of the 64 boys and 70 girls. Some, of course, will go on to institutions of higher learning but most of them will be stepping directly into the eternal struggle of life.

The war hangs over them all, however, like a dark shadow and probably will shape the course of their lives. At least five of the boys will be in the country's armed forces within a week. Already some who started with the class are in the service. Others will be going into war factories. Even the girls will not escape its influence. They too will be going into war work. Some may even find their way to the fighting front as nurses.

The class of 1942 has the distinction of having two sets of twins—Florence and Frances Cook and Emma Jo and Mary Jo Sanders.

Their faces as yet unmarked by the chaos of a world at war, in the first row on the left from top to bottom, they are:

EIGHTH IN ROW WON BY JUMBO FOR THE YANKS

Pirate Losing Streak Is Interrupted as Weather Prevents Game

By JUDSON BAILEY
(By the Associated Press)

Ernie Bonham, the undefeated righthanded pitching star of the New York Yankees, is getting too good for his own good.

Jumbo won his eighth straight game yesterday, 4-1, at the expense of the Chicago White Sox. He kept eight hits scattered, walked only two, and would have had a shutout except for a homer by Joe Kuhel in the seventh.

This pitching almost certainly would have satisfied the supporters of any other hurler in the majors, but the onlookers at Yankee stadium sized it up as one of Bonham's poorest performances of the season.

In the first place it wasn't a shutout. The big fellow had administered four of these in his first seven starts and by the time he had laid six goose-eggs end to end yesterday some of the boys figured he should have had another.

It was the first time this year he had allowed more than seven hits. And those two bases on balls, tsk, tsk. He had yielded only five passes in seven games previously, and two in one game surely was slipping.

Joltin' Joe Dimaggio interrupted his batting slump to produce a three-run homer (his tenth of the season) for the margin of victory in the third inning.

The Philadelphia Athletics brought the Detroit Tigers to a sudden stop with a 5-1 decision on Jack Knott's six-hit hurling.

The St. Louis Browns routed Sid Hudson with an eight-run assault in the second inning and went in to whip Washington, 9-5, dropping the Senators into the American League cellar.

In the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates received a reprieve from the weather man. Meanwhile the Boston Braves moved a game closer to the second-place Cardinals by capturing a 4-3 twilight struggle at St. Louis played before 11,447 fans for the benefit of the army and navy relief funds.

Frank (Rube) Melton pitched and batted the Phils to a 2-1 ten-inning triumph over the Cincinnati Reds in a night game. He spaced six hits and doubled home the winning run. Bib Paul Derringer pitched five-hit ball, but his teammates committed four errors.

JOHN M. WILT DIES

Ohio Publinks Golf Tourney Plans Upset This Year By War

By FRITZ HOWELL
(By the Associated Press)

Ohio's 14th annual Public Links golf championship is just a bit up in the air.

There are two certainties—it will be held at the Heatherdowns course in Toledo, and all prizes will be in war bonds or stamps—but from there on everything is a toss-up.

Ray Pennell, executive secretary of the Ohio Public Links Golf Association, said problems still to be ironed out were the dates, the length of the tournament, and whether the feminine feature of the annual classic would be staged as usual.

To give the "pay-as-you-play" boys and girls a chance to get away from their jobs, without taking too much time off for golfing, the tournament has always been held on a Saturday and Sunday, with the men traveling a 72-hole route and the women 36.

Some time ago Pennell suggested the dates of August 8 and 9 for this year, but the Toledo district association, in making up its 1942 program, found those dates unsuitable. The association announced the meet would be held June 18 and 19, but since those dates fall on Thursday and Friday, the association probably meant July 18 and 19—a Saturday and Sunday.

Anyway, the date hasn't been settled, but probably rests between the July 16-19 or the August 8-9 weekends. Now a new problem crops up. Toledo officials, declaring many of their publinksters are involved in defense factory work, with most of them on a six-day schedule, said they thought the tourney should be limited to a single day with 36 holes of medal play.

Pennell said he was willing to go along with that idea, since probably the same defense work situation prevailed all over the state. That change, however, jeopardizes the fourth annual women's tournament, said Pennell expressing doubt that the Heatherdowns course would care to tie up both its private and public layouts for an entire Sunday.

Original plans called for the women to play 18 holes Saturday morning, and 18 Sunday afternoon, over the Heatherdowns private course, while the men would play 36 each day over the public layout. The twin tournaments could not be crowded on a single course, Pennell said, if played in a single day.

"Perhaps we could play the men 36 holes over the public course, and the women 18 over the private course Sunday afternoon," Pennell said, "thus cutting the tournament in half."

Pennell is contacting members of the executive board of the association, and hopes to have the details ironed out in a few days.

"There'll be a tournament," he declared, "and I don't expect the entry list to be cut much. Most of our boys and girls 'team up' in automobiles to get there anyway, so tire and gasoline rationing wouldn't hurt us much."

Dick Ryan of Columbus is the defending men's champion, while Mrs. P. J. Linster of Mansfield had eclipsed the feminine field the last two years.

Race Meet Sought For River Downs

COLUMBUS, June 4—(AP)—River Downs horse race track of Cincinnati asked the state racing commission to approve July 18-Sept. 7 for a 44-day meet. The dates conflict with the July 4-25 permit granted Ohio Sports Enterprises, Inc., for a meet at Hamilton. State law provides that meets within 30 miles of each other must not conflict. Hamilton is 23 miles from Cincinnati.

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, June 4—(AP)—When Herve Lascelles visited Germany in 1936 as a bantamweight scrapper on the Canadian Olympic boxing team he was eliminated in the first round by Ortiz of Mexico... The other night Herve went back to Germany as pilot officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force... They say he got a better decision at Cologne... Pancho Snyder, the Jersey City Giants' manager, occupies an upper berth just like the rawest rookie when his club takes the road... "I don't ask anybody on my club to do anything I won't do myself," he explains... Lee Farmer, Iowa's sprint and broad-jump champ, was a star in high school basketball and does all right in baseball, boxing, wrestling, horseshoe pitching, tennis, checkers and table tennis... and he reached the quarter finals of the national marbles tournament at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933.

Service Dept.

Ed Fruittig, the big end who used to get sick every time the Green Bay Packers made a trip by plane, has just earned his wings in the naval air corps... Pvt. Cecil Travis, former Washington infielder, reports that his Senator sidekick, Buddy Lewis, is impatient to get into the air. Buddy started out at Fort Knox, Ky., in the armored force but has shifted to Kelly Field, Tex., to become an air cadet... Capt. Jay Vessels, who used to cover a lot of football for the AP, came east from Minneapolis for a new assignment with the army air forces, and had just about convinced the boys that Minnesota football is the best brand anywhere when he ran into Lieut. Al Beane... Then Jay remembered that Al hadn't been so bad himself in a couple of games with Albie Booth's Yale team, which Capt. Vessels had watched from the press box some years ago...

Tough Breaks Hang On for Red Pitchers

CINCINNATI, June 4—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff ought to see somebody.

For one thing, they've lost seven of ten extra-inning games played this year, and two of them in the past two days. After Tuesday's 1-0 ten-inning defeat by the Phils, they suffered similarly last night in the same stretch, 2 to 1. Paul Derringer was the victim.

Dan Murtaugh's double and three Red errors made one Philadelphia run in the fourth, and a single and pitcher Frank Melton's double the other in the tenth.

A walk, a wild pitch, and Eddie Joost's double gave the Reds their only score in the fifth.

Today's an off day, the Boston Braves come tomorrow for six games, starting with a doubleheader.

Old Brewers Are Shut Out By Red Birds

(By the Associated Press)

Milwaukee was going great in the American Association until statisticians released some data on the increase in age of association players since the war started. It showed the league-leading Milwaukee club with a flock of old men averaging 28.9 years, up next to the 30-year ancients of Indianapolis.

The Brewers showed the weight of their years last night and took an 8-0 whitewashing from Columbus. And Kansas City's infants (average age 25.9) promptly grabbed top spot by a half game margin, with a double victory over Toledo, 5-2 and 6-4.

Minneapolis absorbed a shutout, 3-0, in a twilight game with Louisville, then took the second game, 4-1.

Indianapolis grabbed seventh place by handing St. Paul its seventh straight licking, 4-1.

LITTLE DAMAGE IS DONE BY JAPS IN AIR RAID ON NAVAL BASE IN ALASKA

the nearest of the Japanese Kuriles.

Pending any official word to the contrary, Washington was inclined to regard the raids as either token reprisals for the recent American bombing of Japan or as thrusts to test American defenses.

But with the southwestern Pacific battle relatively quiet and the battle of Burma ended, officials familiar with the northern Pacific pointed out that the Japanese have chosen a moment for the Alaska attack which could mean a shift in the direction of the war.

If the Japanese intend an attempt to establish themselves in the Aleutians either for a major campaign against the American continent or as a defense against United Nations attack from the north, they have at least another month of good flying weather.

In striking at Dutch Harbor, the Japanese may have thought to find a weak spot, some observers pointed out.

Works on naval installation there, said to include an air and a submarine base, has been in progress only since the fall of 1940. Since 1922 the Japanese had insisted that the Aleutians not be militarized.

Yet during those years the Japanese themselves have pushed their fishing fleets into Aleutian waters despite American protests and were believed to have marked off prospective air bases and landing sites in the volcanic, rocky islands. At the same time Tokyo kept foreign eyes from the Kuriles, which were thought to shelter substantial naval and air stations.

Recent visitors to Dutch Harbor have described American forces there as expecting air raids with the coming of good weather.

Rear Admiral C. S. Freeman, commander of the 13th Naval District said at Seattle after the first raid yesterday that "this attack was not a surprise and the station was prepared to meet it."

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, June 4.—(P)— A strong rally which added as much as 2 cents a bushel in some cases to grain futures prices occurred just before the close today.

Buying that came from dealers who had sold short previously, with some orders also attributed to processors and consuming interests, stimulated the advance. Bullish trade factors included Secretary of Commerce Jones' statement that duty free entry of war materials would not affect domestic prices for those commodities and a Bureau of Agricultural Economics report that the federal loan program would support wheat prices despite the record supply in sight. Loan prices are 10 to 20 cents above wheat values, traders estimated.

Wheat closed 1 1/2-1 3/4 cents higher than yesterday, July 1.18 1/4-1/2, Sept. 1.20 3/4-1/2; corn also 1 1/2-1 3/4 up, July 86 1/2-3/4, Sept. 89 1/2-1/4; oats 1/2-3/4 higher; soybeans 1/2-1/4 up; rye 1-1 1/2 higher.

TIRE PURCHASE PLAN STUDIED BY GOVERNMENT

Warehouses To Be Set Up for Receiving Extras—Board Here Takes First Step

The government is getting ready to buy or accept as gifts any extra tires automobile owners may have, it has been learned from reliable sources, and will in the near future, set up a warehouse in every county for receiving them.

As yet, there is no hint of compulsion. It is entirely on a voluntary patriotic basis, though somewhat along the lines of the recent unfounded reports that regulations might be tightened to permit no more than one spare tire per car.

Just how many tires could be expected from owners in Fayette County remains highly conjectural but it is understood that the Rationing Board here has taken the first steps to put the projected plan into operation.

Presumably, the government is seeking to replenish the reclaimed rubber stocks to make up for the shortage of crude material, the shipment of which from the East Indies and Philippines has been disrupted by the war in the Far Pacific.

Although there was no formal statement or comment from the Rationing Board, it is understood that the plan will be put in operation through the Defense Supplies Corporation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, both government agencies.

Appraisers, it was said, will be appointed by the Rationing Board and will be stationed at the warehouse to grade the tires. These appraisers are to be paid, it was said, on a fee basis but will not necessarily be full-time employees.

The boards, it is understood, will not be burdened with the administration of the new program after the appraisers are appointed, five of whom are to be named for each warehouse.

It is understood that the Fayette County Board already has recommended five appraisers but their names were a closely guarded secret and announcement of them cannot logically be expected until after they have been approved and qualified to act either by the state or Federal authorities in charge of the program. It is known, however, that the board was governed by three attributes in making the recommendations—(1) qualified tire graders (2) knowledge of present price ceilings for all types of tires and (3) willingness to do the work at least part time on a fee basis at the warehouse. It is understood the recommendations were sent to the RFC regional office at Cleveland.

When the plan will be put into operation also is conjectural. The Rationing Board, while not denying that it is contemplated, offered no explanations or comment. Further details were expected in the not too distant future, however.

RINGER TAKES ISSUE WITH GOP LEADERS

S. A. Ringer, Leesburg, candidate on the Republican ticket for congressman for the Sixth District, has taken issue with Republican leaders over their "alleged hunt for a candidate" besides himself.

Ringer charges that an attempt is being made on the part of alleged Republican leaders to obtain another candidate, and asks: "What is the objection to my candidacy?"

Ringer has announced that he is in the race to stay.

VIOLENT STORM SWEEPS COUNTY DURING NIGHT

Heavy Rainfall Accompanied By Unusual Display of Electricity

A violent electrical storm, or series of storms, swept over the county late Wednesday night, and in some localities heavy wind accompanied the storm, and a very heavy fall of rain occurred.

So heavy was the rainfall in many parts of the county that water was still standing in the fields Thursday, and farm work in those areas was definitely ended for the week.

Lightning struck many times in and near this city, but so far as known no serious damage resulted.

The heaviest part of the storm appeared to pass to the north and northeast of Washington C. H. a few miles.

DR. JAMES F. FISHER IS CALLED BY DEATH

Rites for Sabina Physician Saturday Afternoon

Dr. James Fife Fisher, 68, died at his home in Sabina, Thursday morning at 6 o'clock. In poor health for the past three years, he had been seriously ill for the past six months.

He began practicing medicine in Sabina in 1904, and since that time had untiringly served the people in that community.

He was a member of the Ohio Medical Association, Clinton County Medical Association, American Medical Association, and president of the Sabina Building and Loan Association. He was a member of the Sabina Masonic Lodge.

His wife, Charlotte, one son, Vaughn, of Teaneck, N. J., and two grandchildren survive him.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 P. M. at the Littleton Funeral Home. Rev. J. L. McWilliams will be assisted by Mr. George C. Barns in the services.

Friends may call at the residence until Saturday at 11:30 A. M.

Immediately following the funeral services, the body will be taken to the Cincinnati Crematory for cremation.

SMOKE FROM CITY DUMP HANGS OVER THE CITY

Residents of the eastern part of the city again are complaining of the obnoxious smoke from the city dump which, for several nights, has been hanging over that part of the city to the great annoyance of residents generally.

Hopes are being expressed that something will be done to prevent the smoke screen descending upon that part of the city as a result of apparent careless burning of trash on the dump.

More than 600,000 Red Cross First Aid textbooks are being printed per week.

HOLD ALLEGED BURGLARY GANG

Burglary of Over $50,000 Worth of Clothing Is Charged

As a result of a $10,000 clothing robbery in Lebanon recently, several Cincinnati and Covington residents are facing a series of charges, and are suspected of numerous other thefts in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Arrest of the group may solve many thefts and attempted burglaries in the three states during the past two or three years, officials believe.

Ten warrants charging receiving stolen goods were filed against three Cincinnatians, five of them being against Josepa Barr, operator of Joe's Central Clothing Store in Cincinnati, one charge against Mrs. Faye Burke, Barr's sister, and four against Edward Lipson, brother-in-law of Barr.

Five merchants who reported an aggregate loss of 1600 men's suits valued at $50,000 to $100,000 signed the warrants. Ten thousand dollars worth of clothing was recovered.

Earl (Red) Lutes, Covington, is being held under $2,000 bond as one of the burglars who robbed the Lebanon store.

Total rainfall as recorded here for the 24 hours ending at 7 A. M. Thursday, was 1.35 inches.

BROTHER TAKES MAN WHO WAS HELD HERE

After being taken into custody by Sheriff W. H. Icenhower and Deputy Otto Reno, late at night, at the Virgil Bryant farm on the White Road, where he had insisted on loitering about after having done some lawn mowing, Fred Fent, 40, residing near Sabina, was turned over to a brother and taken home.

Officers said Fent had been in a Dayton hospital and had wandered away from home a day or two before appearing at the Bryant farm.

Wins Long Fight

Pvt. John Morighi, 40, of Plainfield, N. J., was retired from the Plainfield police department as a hopeless case because of an apparently incurable disease. After shrinking from 218 to 126 pounds, undergoing 40 operations, he found the correct treatment at the hands of a local doctor. Morighi is back to 200 pounds now and is doing his bit for Uncle Sam. (Central Press)

HOT WEATHER KILLS PART OF CUTWORMS

The recent torrid weather has been death on a great part of the cutworms which have been working on newly planted corn and other crops recently, according to some farmers.

A great deal of damage has been caused by the cutworms in various parts of the county, but comparatively little damage is anticipated from now on.

QUESTIONNAIRES NEARLY ALL IN

Great Amount of Work Was Required To Obtain All Information

Nearly all regular and occupational questionnaires of the men who registered February 16 for military service, are now in the hands of the draft board, and the few remaining will probably be filled out and turned over to the board this week.

It was a difficult task to obtain all regular and occupational questionnaires, and necessitated the work of dozens of volunteer workers throughout the county.

DEMONSTRATION PLANNED FOR SUNNY SEWERS CLUB

Evelyn Simerl, Anna Cook and Wanda Waugh were hostesses to the Sunny Sewers 4-H Club when they held their fifth meeting in the Bloomingburg town hall.

During the brief business meeting three girls were appointed by the president to give demonstrations at the next meeting and Ruby Edwards gave the ones that had been given to her. The main feature of the meeting was the roll call. Each girl answered the roll call by naming the fabric she was using in making her project.

After the meeting, a social period was enjoyed.

HOBBLE HIRED

CIRCLEVILLE — Warren E. Hobbie, principal-coach at Madison Mills Schools last year, has been employed as superintendent by the Perry Township board of education.

BALCONY OPEN TO PUBLIC FOR COMMENCEMENT

Lower Floor Is Reserved for Families of Seniors and High School Faculty

Although each of the members of the senior class were provided with four tickets, there will still be seats for friends and relatives outside their immediate families at the 66th annual WHS commencement in the high school auditorium Thursday night, A. B. Murray, the city schools, assured.

The superintendent said that the tickets had been so distributed among the students that the balcony, with its more than 400 seats, would be open to the public. There is no admission charge.

The student tickets are all reserved, Murray said, and these with the seats allotted to the faculty members and the section set aside for the graduates themselves, will just about fill the lower floor.

The superintendent said that school officials felt there always are many friends of the graduates outside the immediate family who want to attend the exercises, but he added, the size of the class taxed the capacity of the auditorium.

Glen Massman of Springfield is to deliver the commencement address and Rev. Fred I. Garner, pastor of the North Street Church of Christ, is to deliver the invocation and benediction.

Supt. Murray is to present the class and Ray Brandenburg, the president of the board of education, and Walter F. Rettig, the high school principal, will hand them their diplomas.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The modern submarine costs approximately $3,000,000. Torpedo warfare on the sea was highly developed in World War I and America has kept abreast and is building the most efficient Subs in the world today. The newest submarines displace about 1,500 tons.

Scores of these under-sea craft are under construction in U. S. Navy Yards for service wherever they are needed. The voluntary purchase of War Bonds by Americans everywhere will insure our Navy parity with our enemies, the Japs and the Nazis. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day so we can have the "Subs" we need.

COLUMBUS FIRM WILL RESURFACE ROUTE 23

Max J. Zoller, Incorporated, Columbus, was the low bidder for resurfacing route 23 between Circleville and the Franklin County line.

Estimated cost of the resurfacing was $131,400 and the bid of Zoller was $105,697.

Work is to start within a short time.

FIRST AID DISCUSSED BY FLYING NEEDLE CLUB

Three talks on "first aid" were the features of the sixth meeting of the Marion 4-H Club, The Flying Needles, with Patricia Britton, their hostess.

During the brief business meeting, plans were made for the next meeting, Friday, June 12, at the home of Jayne and Ethel Bower. The roll call, called by the secretary, was answered with the name of the girl's first grade teacher and the name of the school that they attended.

After the business meeting, a recreation period was enjoyed out of doors and refreshments were served. The refreshments were strawberries, cake and lemonade.

Too little, too late, too bad! There is still time to buy U. S. Defense Bonds and Stamps.
